GREAT SECRECY IS MAINTAINED

As To What Course President Wilson Will Take With Regard To German Note

NO DIVISION OF OPINION

That Announcement of Submarine Warfare Justifies Severing Relations

Washington, Feb. 1.—Whatever course of action President Wilson has decided upon to meet Germany's declaration of unrestricted submarine warfare, is known only to three or four members of his official family.

Neither the cabinet as a whole, nor the members of the congressional foreign affairs committee have been taken into confidence.

One high official close to the president, declared that no communication had been sent to Germany or to Ambassador von Bernstorff, who was outwardly expecting a severance of diplomatic relations.

There is every indication that a note has been determined upon, and some high officials intimated that it had already been dispatched.

It is undisputed that the government will not permit Germany's announcement to stand without a challenge, but it is not known whether the president will issue a solemn warning or will actually sever diplomatic relations immediately.

White house officials and Secretary Lansing followed the same course of absolute silence they adopted on previous occasions when a communication was dispatched to Berlin, and when its arrival here was awaited.

It became known, however, that Secretary Lansing is working on "something for the president," but after the secretary had conferred with President Wilson, he said that he had nothing to say.

It was later announced that he had no communication today with Ambassador von Bernstorff.

All seemed to take it for granted, however, that the course of action had been determined upon, and it was pointed out that one reason for withholding knowledge of the president's course is the necessity of completing certain arrangements to prepare the country for the eventualities which would follow the severance of diplomatic relations.

Among them are the safeguarding of American ports, the safety of Americans in Germany and the presence of German ships in American harbors.

Colonel House conferred with the president today and talked with cabinet members.

It was stated that the president has made no arrangements to go before congress, but it is considered possible that he might do so at any time.

Public opinion is being carefully considered, but there is apparently no division of official opinion that Germany's announcement justifies the United States in severing diplomatic relations.

AWAITING INSTRUCTIONS AS TO SAILING OF SHIPS

New York, Feb. 1.—President Franklin, of the International Mercantile Marine, telegraphed the state department today asking for a definite ruling and instructions regarding future movements of American ships.

Franklin said that unless Washington instructed otherwise, the steamer, St. Louis, would sail for Liverpool on schedule Saturday.

He said that the St. Louis was American owned, carries American passengers and carries a cargo approved by the government war risk bureau, and which is insured.

Customs officials declined to state whether the port would be closed again tonight, but torpedo boats displayed unusual activity and only a few ships departed from here today, mainly coastwise.

The exception was the Atlantic Transport liner, Philadelphia, which sailed for Europe.

SAYS LOYAL AMERICANS MUST SUPPORT PRESIDENT

New York, Feb. 1.—Charles Evans Hughes, guest of honor at the annual dinner of the New York alumni, of Brown university, declared that every loyal American should stand behind the administration "in this solemn hour," without partisan thought.

The declaration brought the diners to the feet singing the "Star Spangled Banner."

CONGRESSMEN WORK ON UNDISTURBED

Washington, Feb. 1. — Congress worked in an effort to clear up the congested legislative calendar undisturbed by the grave international situation.

There was an air of restrained excitement, but leaders in both sides appeared disposed to wait calmly for the president to act.

EYES OF ALL EUROPE ARE ON THE U. S.

Neutral Nations Waiting American Lead Before They Reply To Germany

London, Feb., 1.—The eyes of Great Britain and all Europe are today focused on Washington.

Not only the policy of the United States, but all neutral nations is being largely determined there.

Spain, Holland and the Scandinavian countries, in messages to English papers state they are waiting for the lead from the United States before they frame a reply to the German announcement.

British officials decline to comment on the crisis.

COL. DURBIN IS IN MIAMI

Distinguished Visitor Is Glad To Be Again In Congenial Climate of Florida

Former Governor William T. Durbin, of Indiana, reached the city on his regular annual visit yesterday, and is registered at the Hotel Royal Palm, where he will remain for several weeks.

Colonel Durbin is glad to get back to Miami where he finds an abundance of sunshne and where he is always welcome. He expressed a surprise at the great growth of the city since last season and has every confidence in the future development of this place. He was in command of the 161st Indiana Volunteer Infantry during the Spanish American war and spent several months with General Fitzhugh Lee's Seventh Army corps while encamped at Jacksonville. Upon the return of his regiment from that campaign, Colonel Durbin was nominated and elected governor of his home state.

New Orleans, Feb. 1.—Twenty-one saloon keepers, including a state representative, charged with violating the Sunday closing l aws, ten women charged with running disorderly houses outside of the restricted district and Hugh O'Donnel, editor of the American, were indicted by the grand jury here today.

O'Donnel was indicted on a charge of criminal libel of city officials.

KEY WEST OFFICIALS RETURNS TO HIS HOME

City Auditor Charles J. Curry, of Key West, had his visit to this city cut short yesterday, when he received a telegram from the mayor of Key West, requesting him to return home immediately.

Mr. Curry is wanted at home to answer questions regarding the investigation that is being made by the state auditor and he is to report for duty at the city hall today. The official left immediately after his arrival here.

The auditor was given a ten day's furlough by the mayor, but when he reached the city where he was to visit relatives, the message was awaiting him.

PASSED OVER VETO

Washington, Feb. 1.—The house tonight passed by a vote of 285 to 106 the immigration bill which President Wilson vetoed on account of the literacy test.

PETROGRAD ANNOUNCES AN ADVANCE

In Region of Riga—Intense Bombardments Characterize Operations On All Fronts

Associated Press, Feb. 1.—On the fighting fronts there is little activity aside from reconnoitering parties and artillery duels, which is especially intense in parts of the Italian theatre.

Petrograd announces a Russian advance southwest of Riga and the repulse of three attacks by Austro-Germans against the Russians near the northern frontier of Rumania.

Small actions are reported from Galicia.

Berlin claims gains for Turks over Russians in northwest Persia.

Reconnoitering engagements and heavy bombardments are in progress around Kut-El-Amara.

The Austrians bombarded with great intensity the region near Lake Garda, in the Gorizia zone and on the Carso plateau.

There is a general feeling of unrest on account of the German announcement of unrestricted submarine warfare.

DARING DEEDS BY AVIATOR

Miami Beach When New Stabalizing Device Was Tried Out Yesterday

The new stabilizing device, which was brought here by Ralph Bourgane, an aviator, was successfully tried out at the Miami Beach aviation camp yesterday, when Mr. Bourgane and Theodore S. Elder, of Atlantic City, N. J., arose to a height of 10,000 feet.

At that height in the air, Mr. Bourgane left the controls set and climbed to the end of one wing while his passenger climbed to the end of the other, leaving the machine under its own control for fifteen minutes. Mr. Bourgane then brought the machine back to Miami Beach.

CANNOT SOLVE MYSTERY OF VESSEL SUNK IN HARBOR

Charleston, S. C., Feb. 1.—Federal officers are unable to ascertain the cause of the sinking of the German freighter Liebenfele, in the harbor, under circumstances leading marine men to believe that she was scuttled.

Collector of the Port Peters has investigated and has conferred with United States District Attorney Waring.

REVENUE BILL PASSED

Washington, Feb. 1. — The house today passed, by a vote of 211 to 196, the administration revenue bill. The measure soon goes to the senate.

WILL CONTINUE THAT LEAK INQUIRY

New York, Feb. 1.—After Joseph W. Becker, operator for E. F. Hutton and Company, testified that F. A. Connolly, partner of R. W. Bolling, did not send the forecast of the president's peace message over Hutton's private wire, as Connolly had declared he did, the congressional committee abandoned the plan to discontinue the hearing, on account of the international situation, and decided to continue the inquiry.

Becker told the committee of another wire, the southern circuit, and said the message might have come over it, but he did not think so)

Connolly was subjected to another grilling, but did not deviate from the statement that he could not recall the exact source of his information.

THIS GOLD IS NOT FOR GERMAN RAIDERS

Baltimore, Feb. 1.—It is learned authoritatively that the steamers Ausable, Maume and Winnebago are carrying gold to buy Argentine wool and not for German raiders.

SPANNELL WAS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE

Texas Man On Trial For Killing Wife Still Held Under Another Indictment

San Angelo, Texas, Feb. 1.—Harry J. Spannell, of Alpine, Texas, was acquitted by a jury in the district court here, today, of the murder of his wife, last July.

Spannell is still under indictment for the murder of Lieutenant Colonel M. C. Butler, who was shot at the same time Mrs. Spannel was killed.

The jury was out two hours this afternoon.

The killing in Alpine, Texas, of Lieutenant Colonel C. M. Butler, of the Sixth United States cavalry, and Mrs. Harry J. Spannell, by Harry J. Spannell while the three were automobiling on July 20, 1916, and for which the latter was indicted on a charge of murder, caused a sensation among army men on the Mexican border. Spannell was indicted by the grand jury at Alpine on a charge of murder, but because of the local feeling, it was deemed advisable to grant a change of venue and the trial was set for San Angelo.

Spannell was a music teacher at Baylor college at Waco, Texas, when he married Crystal Holland, the daughter of Colonel John Holland, a wealthy cattle man of western Texas. Later Spannell went to Alpine with his wife, where he assumed the management of the Holland hotel, which was owned by Mrs. Spannell's father. Mr. and Mrs. Spannell made their home at the hotel.

It was there that they met Lieutenant Colonel Butler when the army officer came to Alpine in command of the cavalry troops on that part of the border. Lieutenant Colonel Butler made his headquarters at the Holland hotel and became the friend of Mr. and Mrs. Spannell.

On the evening of the tragedy Spannell drove up to the door of the hotel in his automobile and invited Lieutenant Colonel Butler to accompany him and Mrs. Spannell for a ride. When only a short distance from the hotel and on the principal street of the little town, shots were heard from the Spannell automobile and Mrs. Spannell was found in a dying condition in the rear seat of the car with Lieutenant Colonel Butler's body beside her. Her death followed soon after.

Spannell gave himself up, but refused to make any statement regarding the tragedy.

Because of the prominence of the victims, a board of inquiry was appointed from the army to make an investigation of the facts leading up to the tragedy. This board completely exhonorated Lieutenant Colonel Butler from any blame and the report stated that the army officer's friendship for Mr. and Mrs. Spannell was honorable and his conduct above reproach at all times.

Lieutenant Colonel Butler was the son of Major General Calvert Mathew Butler, (retired) of South Carolina, who was a United States senator at one time. His wife was the daughter of a leading family of Nashville, Tenn.

Spannel was granted a change of venue to Coleman county. He will be tried there on a charge of killing Lieutenant Colonel Butler.

He was released today on a five thousand dollar bond.

Reported German Submarine Attacked Schooner Some Weeks Ago

Pensacola, Fla., Feb. 1.—The American schooner, William Jones, was fired on by a German submarine, several weeks ago, according to a letter to the Norwegian consul here, received from Charles Shrader, captain of the schooner.

The letter indicated that the firing took place in the Bay of Biscay, and that the schooner was damaged.

It is said that one sailor jumped overboard and was drowned. The schooner was on the way from France to Pensacola.

SEARS BETTER; CASTS A VOTE

Leaves Hospital To Be Present In House, Then Goes Back To Bed

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Feb. 1.—Congressman William J. Sears, of Florida, who went to Providence hospital, Sunday night, got out of bed and went to the house of representatives long enough this afternoon to vote on the revenue bill and the immigration bill.

Mr. Sears said he had been suffering from the grippe, and, although he felt much better, was going back to the hospital tonight, to continue treatment and rest up for a few days more.

He said he hoped that within a few days to be in good shape and again take up his duties.

GUARDSMAN BE SUMMONED?

Is Question Raised In Georgia In Case In Local Courts

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 1.—Suppose a member of the National Guard is summoned to his home as a witness in court, and suppose the authorities of the war department decline to grant him a leave of absence, by what method could the state compel his attendance?

None in the world, say Atlanta lawyers, who have looked up the question, which is raised in the case of J. Walter LeCraw of this city, a young lawyer who was assistant solicitor of Fulton superior court under Hugh M. Dorsey while the latter held that office, and who is now a lieutenant in a battery of field artillery of the Georgia National Guard on the Mexican border.

Mr. LeCraw has been subpoenaed as a witness in the trial of Mrs. Victor E. Innes on a charge of larceny after trust in connection with the mysterious disappearance of the Nelms sisters from Atlanta more than two years ago.

Her husband, Victor E. Innes, has been tried on the same charge and sentenced to seven years, but is now appealing for a new trial. Mr. LeCraw was associated with Hugh M. Dorsey in working up evidence against the Inneses.

SPARKMAN ON HIS WAY HOME

Congressman Will Take Up Practice of Law After Congress Adjourns

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Feb. 1.—Congressman Sparkman, of Florida, left Washington for his home at Tampa Wednesday to remain about a week or ten days. He succeeded as chairman of the rivers and harbors committee in having the rivers and harbors' bill passed last week and will rest up a few days before the time comes for conference on the bill between the senate and house.

Mr. Sparkman will go back to the practice of law when his term expires, on March 4th. He formed a new partnership with his two sons, Edward Lamar Sparkman and Curtis Sparkman, on January 1st, under the name of Sparkman and Sparkman.

Mr. Sparkman says he has not decided whether he will run for congress again two years hence. It is believed his inclination is not to make the race.

During the many years he has been in congress, Mr. Sparkman kept in touch with the law practice at Tampa, and while he received no funds from the law firm with which he was connected, he always kept his desk in the law offices there.

With the retirement of Chairman Sparkman, Florida, with more need for river and harbor work than any other state, loses the chairman of the rivers and harbors committee. His successor, Mr. Drane, is unlikely to get any committee assignments that will compare with that held by Mr. Sparkman, and the state is sure to feel his loss.

New York, Feb. 1.—Counsel for Mrs. Ethel Byrne, who was on a hunger strike up to several days ago, announced today that she would accept Governor Whitman's pardon, which would release the woman on condition that she promise to refrain from disseminating birth control information.

Only owners of real and personal property may vote.

J. D. Godman, T. C. Hinton and W. H. Chaille were named as the inspectors of the election, and W. J. Rodgers as clerk.

The resolution passed by council calling for the election will be published today.

As proposed, the resolution carried no item for the extension of the fire fighting service mains and equipment, but after Fire Chief Chase addressed council relative to imperative needs for the protection of the property and lives of the citizens, council decided to include this item.

The chief suggested the extension of the high pressure system, two electrically controlled units for pumping water, a fire station for Riverside and Southside, additional hose and other apparatus and equipment.

Hospital Bids Opened

Council opened bids for the construction of certain units of the proposed city hospital, and referred the bids to Architect Geiger for tabulation. Nearly all of the bidders filed bids for the whole work, to be done for each separate item.

The lump sum bids were:

R. C. Gardner & Co.	$66,000
Wolfe & Ewing Con. Co.	55,000
Crump Con. Co.	56,443
H. L. Clark & Son	54,400
St. John Con. Co.	52,218

The average of the bids was $56,910 for the administration building, colored ward, service building and corridors between the administration and service buildings, and the service building and colored ward.

To Revive Bay Park Suit

Council accepted the recommendation of a committee composed of Councilmen E. C. Romfh, L. T. Highleyman, and F. H. Wharton, to bring a suit to determine whether the city or the Florida East Coast railway company owns the riparian rights in front of that strip of land along the bay, known as Bay Park.

A. J. Rose was retained to represent the city, and is to receive $3,000, one-half of which is to be paid in cash and the remainder at the termination of the litigation, and an additional two thousand dollars if he wins the suit. He will also be reimbursed for actual traveling expenses, and the city will pay the costs of court.

Hudson, Wolfe & Cason presented a bill for $825 for legal services in connection with the Bay Park ejection suit, recently tried in the circuit court here; $750 was for legal fees and $75 for stenographers' services.

Southside Civic association endorsed council's determination to go into the courts to decide the ownership of the riparian rights and presented a resolution to this effect.

The Freelund Construction company was given the work of finishing sidewalk construction begun by the Biscayne Construction company and abandoned by them. The Freedlund company is to be paid a percentage above the cost of completing the work.

Council accepted an offer of $7,400 from the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, in payment for the city's claims of loss because the Biscayne Construction company failed to carry out its paving contracts with the city. It was understood that the city will pay all claims for material and labor that have been properly filed.

COMMISSIONER OF N. Y. POLICE FISH CATCHER

Landed An 8 Pound African Pompano Yesterday and Other Large Ones

CAME HERE FOR SPORT

And Found Plenty of It, As Others Are Doing—Waterfront Notes

(By W. S. Thomas.)

Police Commissioner Arthur Wood of New York city, who is a guest of the Hotel Royal Palm, caught an eight-pound African pompano while fishing from the charterboat Waho yesterday.

Commissioner Wood has been in the city only a few days and hearing of the excellent fishing at Miami, determined to go out in search of some of the sporty ones.

Accompanied by E. P. Snow and Eliox Cross, the commissioner left the Royal Palm dock yesterday morning and returned late in the afternoon with four large barracuda and an equal number of grouper and mutton fish together with the pompano, which is the second one of the kind to be taken near Miami in several years.

A large whipwray, a shark and a number of other fish, which were taken by a party out with Captain Charles Thompson on Wednesday, attracted much attention on the Elser pier. The whipwray was one of the largest ever brought into Miami and measured eight feet across. The catch was on exhibition until late Wednesday night and was viewed by hundreds of visitors, many of whom had never seen such a sight in their lives.

The houseboat Peggy, which belongs to Peter Seims of St. Paul, arrived here on Wednesday. The Peggy was here last season and returns considerably earlier than before and will remain later.

Charles T. Bloomer and Dr. F. Q. Wilson, prominent visitors from Newark, N. J., have chartered the yacht Traveler from John D. Meyer and will cruise among the keys for several days in search of big fish. The Traveler is one of the finest little vessels in port. Before leaving here a few days ago, the two anglers said they were going for a scrap with the big fellows and Captain John O. Aberg, commander of the vessel, has promised them some good sport.

Mrs. S. J. D. Meade of Cincinnati, O., who is spending the season in the city, demonstrated her ability to fish Wednesday when she caught a large number of kingfish and other varieties from the charterboat Gypsy Queen, Captain Hatch, which returned to the Elser pier with thirty-two kingfish and a number of grouper. In the party besides Mrs. Meade were C. M. Tiffany, of New York; H. Wagner, of Bridgeport, Conn., and F. McCann, of this city. While Mrs. Meade was too modest to claim much of the honors, the other members of the party gave her credit for having caught eighty per cent of the fish. Mrs. Meade has never before had any experience at deep-sea fishing and her catch of yesterday is considered remarkable. The fish attracted much attention when brought to the Elser pier.

A. Gardiner Copper and Philip La Tourette, both of New York, were out on board Captain Graumlich's boat Greyhound Wednesday and caught a large number of kingfish, one of which weighed fifteen pounds and which broke a pole while being brought to bay. He was finally landed, however.

Captain J. W. Powell, a well known fishing guide, is making a feature of demonstrating the best methods of fishing for the different kinds of fish at the Burdine Sport shop, in the Hippodrome building, which is quite interesting to the visitors, many of whom have had no fishing experience.

Fishing from Captain Riley's boat, Nemo, yesterday C. P. Tietze of Weekawken, N. J., and J. L. Walther of Philadelphia, caught one kingfish, two bonito, a barracuda and two grouper.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. S. White of New York city, who are sojourning at the Hotel Royal Palm, chartered Captain Ross' boat Juliet yesterday and returned to the Royal Palm dock with two barracuda, three grouper, two mackerel and a mutton fish.

John Bindley and a party of friends were out on the Snap Shot, Captain Green, yesterday.

The yacht Miss Annie II, owned and commanded by Capt. H. M. Corse, of Jacksonville, arrived in port yesterday.

The steam yacht Cynthia, owned by M. B. Mills, reached Miami yesterday and is lying at anchor.

The charterboat Angler, Captain Crossett, left the Royal Palm dock yesterday with baggage for Henryr W. Putnam, Jr's. yacht Alcyone which is lying at anchor of the government cut.

Kingfish, amberjack and bottom fish were caught by R. C. Reynolds and a party of friends while out on board the charterboat Helena IV, Captain Manson, yesterday.

The Misses E. Remsen and W. C. Ahern of New York city, left yesterday on board Captain Layton's yacht Buffalo for a nine day cruise among the Florida keys.

Fishing from the charterboat Corsair, Captain Scott, yesterday, Edward S. George and a party of friends caught six grouper and an equal number of barracuda and mutton fish.

E. H. Morris, owner of the yacht Idylease, which is tied up at the Seminole dock, has been called to New York on business. Mrs. Morris is still on board the yacht and is entertaining her friend, Mrs. H. M. Olcott of New York.

The yacht Kanised, which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kann, of Washington, has returned from a cruise among the Florida keys.

The yacht Freelance has returned here from a southern cruise with a party on board.

Fishing from the charter boat Inwood, yesterday, Albert Johnson, Owen Meredith, J. A. Giffen, of Atlantic, Ia., and Charles Morrison, of Callaway, Neb., caught twenty-seven fish which Captain John Plostnez brought into the Elser pier where they attracted much attention. In the catch were, eighteen grouper three of which were extra large, three snappers, three barracuda and three amberjack. The gentlemen were delighted with the trip and propose to make frequent trips to the fishing banks during their stay in the city.

The cruising houseboat, Aktamaha, which was formerly the U. S. A. and which belong to McCoy Brothers, is enroute to Miami and other points on the coast where the winter will be spent. On board the boat are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitehouse, of New York City for whom the vessel was recently remodeled. The Altamaha was formerly the tender for the houseboat Everglades when under charter by Andrew Carneigie last winter and will be remembered by those familiar with the local waterfront.

MIAMIANS WIN QUOITS GAME

Have A Lead of 106 Points On Tourists When Tournament Is Ended

The sixth game in the tournament between Miamians and tourists was played yesterday morning at 10,30, and was won by the Miamians with 100 points against 68 points made by the tourists. This put he Miamians in the lead of 101 points in all the games combined.

The morning game was played by the following pitchers:

Miamians	R.	P.
Wm. Otter, Miami	4	52
J. H. Nelson	3	48
Total	7	100

Tourists	R.	P.
M. Hagen, New York	1	32
Geo. Dickinson, Palestine, Ill.	4	36
Total	5	68

As none of the combatants had made 600 points, it was necessary to play another game during the afternoon at 2.30, which ended in a victory for the Miamians.

This game was played by the following pitchers.

Miamians	R.	P.
Jerry Randle, Miami	0	5
Ed. Biddlecom, Miami	1	5
Total	1	10

(This number was needed to end the first tournament.)

Tourists	R.	P.
C. P. Ingram, N. W. Okla.	1	3
C. Van Winkle, Terre Haute	0	4
Total	1	7

The seven games played in this tournament stood as follows:

Miami.

No. 1	6	100
No. 2	16	100
No. 3	11	100
No. 4	11	100
No. 5	10	90
No. 6	7	100
No. 7	1	10
Total	62	600

Tourists.

	Ringers	Points
No. 1	11	57
No. 2	10	82
No. 3	8	88
No. 4	14	94
No. 5	12	100
No. 6	5	68
No. 7	1	5
Total	61	494

This gives the Miamians 106 points more than the Tourists.

The captains, Geo. Wunder and Albert Anderson are ready to enter another tournament very soon, probably next week.

The Tourists are not by any means discouraged by the outcome of the first tournament, knowing that they were a little at a disadvantage against the home team, who play on these grounds all the year round.

JANUARY SALE OF STAMPS

Stamp sales at the Miami postoffice approximated twelve thousand dollars during January, just a little less than the sales for the record month of December, 1916, which included, of course, the sales for the stamps on Christmas parcels. December sales were $12,177.

TWELFTH STREET BRIDGE

The Twelfth street bridge is having its concrete "railing" put in position, which is one thing that the workmen can do while waiting for steel. The bulk of the massive work on that structure has been completed, and, with the arrival of the draw, its finish will be a matter of comparatively short time. This, it is hoped, will be during the current month.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. John L. North wishes to announces to his friends the removal of his office to the Third Floor of the New Ralston Building, on Avenue C.

IN SCHOOLS TODAY TOPICS OF THRIFT

Out of sympathy with "Thrift Day" there will be special exercises today, under direction of teachers in High and Central Grammar schools. An hour will be devoted in the rooms to the importance of early beginnings in thrift, and probably the greater portion of time in most of the rooms will be given to writing essays on featuers of the subject.

It is understood that the thrift topic will also occupy considerable attention at the Business College today.

Tomorrow, Saturday, will be the occasion of general observance of Thrift Day throughout the country. In Miami a prize of $2.50 in gold has been offered for the best letter or essay written by a school pupil of the county, or any of school age, on the subject, and it is indicated that many will be in the competition. The essays will be handed in to the Fidelity bank tomorrow evening.

TORONTO EX-MAYOR IS GUEST IN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baird of Toronto have arrived in Miami and are at the home of Mrs. Sanders, principal of the Riverside school, at her home on Fifteenth street. Mrs. Baird is a sister of Mrs. A. W. Law, who is now temporarily staying with Mrs. Norman Parlee on Fifteenth street until her new home, now building, is completed. Mr. Baird is a former mayor of the city of West Toronto, now incorporated with Toronto, of which city he was afterwards an alderman. Other relatives and friends of Mrs. Law from Toronto are now at Kissimmee awaiting word as to where and when they can be accommodated in Miami until the end of the season, when they will come on.

COUNTY CLERK KELLY

With No Appetite All Run-down, Tells How Vinol Helped Him

So many cases like this are coming to our attention that we are publishing this letter for the benefit of Miami people who are in Mr. Kelly's condition. Read our offer below.

Clarksville, Tenn. "I am a County Clerk, and became run-down, no appetite, was drowsy and felt badly most of the time, I had tried several remedies without benefit. One day I read an advertisement of Vinol and at once tried it. In a short time my appetite improved, my strength increased and I felt better in every way." S. W. Kelly.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it is an unequalled tonic-body-builder, combining beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, the oldest and most famous tonics known to medicine.

So strong is our faith in Vinol that we offer to return the purchaser's money in every case if Vinol should fail to give satisfactory results.

WATER RUNS LOW IN CANALS

On all hands hopes have been expressed that some relief would soon be experienced from the prolonged drough. Scarcely any rain, and no measurable amount, for weeks, has rendered dust intolerable, and robbed the usual winter verdure of the city of much of its beauty. The condition exists throughout the section. Visitors returning from a trip this week on the Fort Lauderdale canal told yesterday of their boat, drawing only three feet of water, scraping the bottom. The decreased water in the canals and lateral ditches is noticed, these visitors say.

CLUB BUILDING FOR PALM BEACH WOMEN

West Palm Beach, Feb. 1.—The contract for the erection of the Woman's Club building at an estimated cost of $10,000 has been awarded to A. C. Nelson, and work on the structure will be begun as soon as the needed material arrives.

The building will be located on the lakefront north of the city library and one block east of the city park. It will be two stories in height, of concrete construction with composition roof and wide verandas on two sides. The plans, which were drawn by W. L. Eckler, architect, show the dimensions of the structure to be 49 x80 feet. The first floor of the building will comprise library, rest rooms, reading rooms, committee rooms, dining room and kitchen. The second floor will be devoted to an auditorium with a seating capacity of 500. The equipment will be modern and of the very latest designs.

Contractor Nelson has promised the building complete and ready for occupancy by July 4.

Millville, N. J., is offered a bequest of its water plant at the death of the present owner, Walter Wood.

MAKING THE MOTOR ILLUSTRATED TODAY HIPPODROME SCREEN

Striking scenes descriptive of the making of an automobile motor never before shown on a motion picture screen will be shown in Miami today by Gilman M. Flint, of the Society of Automobile Engineers, as a part of his talk on the Knight sleeve valve motor at the Hippodrome theatre.

"I understand," said J. T. Weathers, "that in addition to further scenes descriptive of the design and operation of the Knight motor, Mr. Flint has had produced a picture calculated to especially interest women. This picture forms a lesson in automobile driving. A car is shown and seated at the wheel is a girl who operates the clutch pedal, switch button, and other simple mechanisms of the modern automobile.

"The day is past when women hesitate to drive a gasoline car. The reason for this is that the manufacturers, realizing women do not care for complicated machinery, have reduced the operating mechanism of the automobile to a point where even a child can understand and operate it."

WALKING THE EARTH ON WAY TO GERMANY

Two Germans of pedestrian proclivities who were in Miami a few months ago, one of them walking, they said, from points in Germany and around the world have arrived here again, coming from Cuba, where they say they had a number of ovations. Walter Wandervel, who is to receive a reward upon his return to Posen, Germany, will probably resume his walk toward New York tomorrow. He does not expect to reach Posen until a year after the end of the European war, whenever that is. Fritz Glinkert, who has been his time-keeper, leaves him in Miami and returns to his home in San Francisco. Wandervel will pick up another timekeeper in Miami.

The Posen globe-trotter has accumulated an interesting book of letters, state seals, signatures of celebrities, etc., while on the march, including a few lines from William Jennings Bryan.

WOMAN CONGRESSMAN MAY COME TO MIAMI

The Miami Chamber of Commerce has learned that Miss Jeanette Rankin, "Congressman" from Montana, will deliver a lyceum address in Jacksonville in April, and has advanced the suggestion that the Woman's Club of Miami invite Miss Rankin to come here for the same purpose.

So far the Woman's Club has not acted on the suggestion, but the Chamber of Commerce officials believe the club members will rise to the occasion, as the Woman's Club is considered one of the most progressive organizations in Miami.

Landscape Architect Says Royal Palm Park Is Most Unique In All America

"There is, without doubt, no park in America so unique in its location, so charming in its variety of interesting details, nor filled with greater natural landscape possibilities than the great reservation now being developed under the direction of the state federation of women."

Professor A. D. Taylor, one of the country's prominent landscape architects from Cleveland, Ohio, thus characterized this wonderful masterpiece of nature.

Professor Taylor said, in an interview at Halcyon hall yesterday, that this park must be classed with the great national parks of the country. He passed an entire day in a visit to the park, in which are growing the largest grop of royal palms in Florida.

"The many beautiful trails which have been cleared to the numerous points of interest show an appreciation of the great natural landscape," he added.

"It is wonderful that a group of public spirited citizens should have accomplished the work of preserving for present and future generations an asset so valuable to the public and to the student."

When told that this park, now in its very elementary stages of development, comprised more than 1,900 acres, Professor Taylor and his party were extremely surprised.

Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd Gave Wonderful Talk On Eclipses

Routine business, consisting chiefly of discussions in regard to the questions of the disposition of the club house, occupied the chief attention of the business meeting of the Cocoanut Grove Housekeepers' club, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Sue V. Moore, president, was in the chair, and appointed the following members of the nominating committee, which will prepare the tickets for the coming election. They are: Mrs. R. L. Stewart, chairman; Mrs. S. J. Kent, Mrs. Henry Richardson, Mrs. A. J. Commins, Mrs. G. S. Spaulding, Mrs. I. J. Thomas, Mrs. F. L. Church.

The auditing committee will be: Mrs. Thomas Wyatt, Mrs. Albert Ozanne and Mrs. Ralph Munroe.

The program for the afternoon was given over to one of the most delightfully interesting speakers the club has heard for some time. Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, whose husband is the famous astronomer, was the speaker of the afternoon, giving a vividly descriptive account of the expeditions she had enjoyed with Dr. Todd to the parts of the world where the last thirteen eclipses of the sun were best to be observed.

Mrs. Todd said that as her husband chased the eclipses and as she chased him, she had a wonderful opportunity for seeing the world as well as for enjoying the spectacular and picturesque part of the eclipses themselves. For, as she said, the astronomer only observes the eclipse, he does not see it. Since, if an astronomer wished to study the eclipses from his own domestic dome he would have to wait three hundred and fifty years between them. For this reason, therefore, the astronomer must travel to that part of the country that is in the track of the eclipse and as the very middle of that track will give the best view, the expeditions are often most interesting from the point of view of travel as well. The eclipse track is from three to five thousand miles long and the eclipse itself may last as long as eight minutes, but rarely has been known to last longer that five.

The real tragedy of cloudy weather for an eclipse, which means the total failure of an expedition, which may have been in preparation for many months, involving much expense and many men's hopes, was vividly brought out by Mrs. Todd, who had experienced that tragedy a number of times out of the total of thirteen expeditions.

The corona, she said, was the real object of study for the scientists. When the eclipse, which is caused by the moon coming between the earth and the sun the corona may be observed as strange and wonderful streamers radiating into space.

The first eclipse Mrs. Todd saw was in 1878 over Pike's Peak, and here the corona took the form of streamers radiating for uncomprehended miles into space. This corona changes its form from eclipse to eclipse and the problem for study is how fast it changes.

The first eclipse expedition was in 1887, and it was found that Japan was the place for the best observation. This was at the time when Japan had only a few years before been open to foreigners, and Mrs. Todd was the fourth foreign lady to climb to the top of Fugi-San. She described most interestingly the wonderful and unspoiled art of Japan in those days, as well as the attitude of eager interest in things foreign that was manifesting itself there.

The 1892 expedition went to the West Coast of Africa, on a warship, so that Mrs. Todd was not present at that time, but the next, in 1896, took them again to Japan, but this time to the northernmost of the islands, which had never been visited by foreigners, and which was inhabited not by Japanese, but the aboriginies of Japan, the Inu. These people, Mrs. Todd described as the most picturesque in the world, and probably the most simple minded. They were in the period of mental and social development of the stone age, and were a most fascinating study. At this eclipse the corona assumed the most incredible colors, Mrs. Todd said. For a time it seemed as if they had actually got behind creation and saw a new world made out of primeval chaos.

The silence that accompanied a total eclipse is the most impressive thing, she said, she had ever known or imagined. It is as if the whole world was still and listening, one is out of the world and almost out of one's self.

The expedition in 1900 took them to Tripoli, which she compared very much with Cocoanut Grove from the point of view of climate. She pictured the marvelous desert and the oasis that is Tripoli, and, with the next expedition which, curiously enough, was also to Tripoli, described the city and the people, and, particularly the ubiquitous camel, which she pictured most delightfully as the most haughty and disdainful of beasts. Dr. Todd's inventions by which hundreds of photographs of the corona might be taken in the short minutes of the eclipse, she told of here.

The Sumatra expedition in 1904 she pictured charmingly. There the immense vitality of the jungle life forms a whirl, she said, of magnificent life and vitality, she brought out clearly as well as the interesting tin mines of the country.

She concluded with the Chile expedition in 1901, which was also for the study of Mars, and the Russian expedition in 1914, which was made a failure because of the beginning of the war, and which resulted in the tons of astronomical apparatus still being detained in Russia. And she told of the next eclipse which will take place on June 8, 1918, and which will be seen in the United States at its best at Denver.

Mrs. Todd's charm of manner and her happy ability of vivid description kept her hearers in wrapt attention. The cup of tea with which the Housekeepers' club marks the end of its program, was then served.

Society Editors Cross Bats Over the Way to Get News

The society editor of the Palm Beach Post has certainly proved herself a good newspaperwoman. Out of two lines of well meant—but tardy, it is admitted advice—gained from our toploftical knowledge of the ways of our good neighbor, Mrs. Bryan, she constructs the following column of cleverness which The Herald S. E. points to with pride.

But, Lucile, old top, if you could write all this jollity about the busy Mrs. B., why i nthe name of all city editors couldn't you have written her speech for her? Keeping up with the lady in question, we grant you, is a task for only the most hardened suffragist, but surely, if you had taken your mind off that thought of doublecrossing your Miami sisters, you that can create a columnn of what Mrs. Bryan did, could make a stick or two of what she said—whether she said it or not.

And yet ,my sister, we share your feelings somewhat. The first time we laid eyes on the distinguished lady in question we feebly asked her if we might have an interview and she drew herself up, just like the wife of an ex-secretary of state, and said briefly: "Mr. Byran attends to all the newspaper work." We went out through the key hole. So we understand, we truly do. And sometime if we ever meet in the thick of a tropic night, let us form a League for the Suppresison of all Superior Editors. Poison to their blue pencils and Nirvana forever to the deadly words: "Where's that copy, young woman?" Selah. Here's her story:

"Nobody realizes better than a society editor that one can live and learn with each succeeding day. Marjory Stoneman Douglas, the Miami Herald's clever portrayer of social amenities, in reproducing the story of our tiff with the city editor as to why Mrs. William Jennings Bryan's lecture did not get into print, offers the very valuable suggestion that had we seen Mrs. Bryan and gotten a resume of the lecture in advance the editor would have had no cause to worry had we dropped dead in our tracks or been otherwise obliterated from the face of the earth. As a Job's comforter, the Herald S. E. surpasses anything we ever saw.

"Getting personal, Marjory, you're a darling, and we certainly appreciate your well-meant advice, which of course, is all news—what?—to us, but we just want to tell you, on the quiet that it was trying to keep up with Mrs. Bryan and get within even seeing distance of her that caused us to succumb that fateful day. First she was here, and then she wasn't, and being only a very normal human being we couldn't stand the pace. Perhaps you know, better than we can tell you, just how difficult it is for even a hardened reporter, who has no compunction about "butting in," to get a word alone with Mrs. Bryan.

"As a sidelight: After we were finally assured that Mrs. Bryan would lecture here on Wednesday afternoon, we were still in doubt as to the exact hour of her arrival. A delegation of prominent club women and suffragists, dolled up in their prettiest frocks and most winning smiles, met the morning train, but Mrs. Bryan failed to make an appearance. They went home in despair and about the time they had reached the conclusion that there would be no lecture that afternoon the telephone bell jingles and Mrs. Bryan's soft voice informs the president of the Woman's Club that she has arrived via the automobile route from Fort Lauderdale and is at a downtown hotel.

"She is immediately whisked over to the beautiful Palm Beach home of Mrs. John V. Cowling, president of the Equal Suffrage League. However, she doesn't tarry there long. Removing the stain of travel, she dons a stunning black gown and is carried off to the Royal Poinciana for lunch by Senator O'Neal of Connecticut, and his charming wife, who are old friends of the Bryans. Luncheon over, she races back to the west side, flits into the church, which is already crowded to overflowing, and mounts the platform.

"Mind you, up to this time, no one except her hosts, have had a chance to say even as much as howdy-do to her.

"Immediately at the close of the spellbinding talk, (for it was more of an earnest heart-to-heart talk than a lecture), about five hundred women imitate a bargain day rush and make a bee line for the pulpit to shake the noted visitor by the hand.

"Now, Marjory, be perfectly fair. What chance, pray, had a poor, half sick, recently-converted-suffragist society editor in a jam like that? Being blessed with long arms, we did manage to slip a card to the lecturer on which was scribbled a request for an audience that evening at 9 at Mrs. Cowling's home where open house would be held for her. Then we wiggled our way out of the crush and reported at the office, where the editor suggested dinner as a damper of super-developed enthusiasm.

"We had planned, when we went to see Mrs. Bryan that evening, to get an expression from the sweet-faced, gentle-voiced, motherly-looking exponent of votes for women as to how many moons she thought it would take to convert the heathen men to 'Ballots for Both,' if the prospecst for driving the wedge into the Solid South were as bright as some would have us believe; if it were, indeed her 'Great Commoner' husband who is referred to as the man, high in the councils of the democratic party, who is to appear before the legislature of North Carolina and urge that body to vote for the submission of the equal suffrage amendment; if she wouldn't please tell us something about her wonderful new home, Mount Calm, that Mr. Bryan is building for her on the summit of Sunset mountain. These and a million and one other things in which a never satiated public is interested, we intended to embody in such an interview as would make the poor Miami society editors sit up and rub their eyes and wonder, if, like the famous Rip they had been asleep on the job, and allowed all these things about their own Mrs. Bryan to get by them.

"And then, in conclusion, we would have timidly requested Mrs. Bryan for a transcript of her lecture, which she would no doubt kindly have given us. The somewhat uncertain temper of the city editor would thus have been tided over until another time—and the 'cause' would have retained a booster. But it so happened that from 7 o'clock to 12 we were utterly oblivious to everything that took place on this terrestrial sphere, and we only missed a delightful treat in not meeting Mrs. Bryan personally, but a chance to get 'in good' with the editor.

"And speaking of that mighty man of eagle eye and touchy temper leads us to beseech the Miami society editor to 'have a heart' and send her advice under personal cover next time. Editor Donald Herbert Conkling has been so worked up since he saw the tip on the society page of of the Herald yesterday that even the entire corps of pretty 'silent sentinel' suffragists who are making life a burden for the president these days, couldn't win him back to the cause now."

It was decided to secure a boat for next Wednesday and the committee was appointed to consist of Mr. Hosteter, of Indianapolis, and Messrs. Miller and Albright, of Crawfordsville.

CHILD STUDY CLASS HELD INTERESTING SESSION

The Child Study class of the Woman's Club met at the club auditorium yesterday afternoon at three o'clock with Mrs. M. S. Bobst directing. The secretary, Mrs. Parry, read the minutes of the last meeting when the topic was "Nervousness," presented by a most able address by Dr. A. Leight Monroe. The same topic was continued for general discussion yesterday, but a number of other subjects of general interest divided the time.

A newspaper article on the effect of toys on children ,mentally, physically and morally, was read and discussed. The general decision was that only toys should be allowed which are either useful in developing the child—allowing him to create his own entertainment, or beautiful, giving him artistic pleasure. WHOM THE GODS

It is not conceivable that Germany has not taken into consideration the probability that her determination to conduct an unrestricted submarine warfare against the commerce of the allies, would immediately involve her with the neutral nations of the world, and that leads to the very natural question as to whether her most recent statement is not deliberately intended to array the rest of the world against her.

The tone, the wording and the purpose of the note addressed to this country as a direct response to President Wilson's senate address on the subject of world peace, is insulting, domineering, despotic. If its purpose was to arouse the antagonism of this country, and the world, to a point where this country, and other neutrals, would be forced to suspend diplomatic relations, to declare war, there is not the slightest doubt that it has practically succeeded. It leaves not the slightest loophold for negotiations. It is a deliberate breaking of its promises to this country, made after the Sussex affair. It is a challenge to the United States and to the neutral world.

It is, however, much more than that. Its own language betrays the desperate situation of Germany and her allies. It shows conclusively, that the proposed submarine blockade of the British Islands is one, last desperate throw in which the central powers are risking everything, even the enmity of the entire world. It is the agonized cry of the man who makes the last possible lunge in the hope of crippling his enemy before he, himself, succumbs to his own wounds. It leaves German naked and friendless, but still dangerous, in the presence of her enemies.

Germany has practically announced to this country that Americans on the open oceans, even travelling on the most legitimate errands are to be placed in peril and are to be treated as enemies, if they travel in ships proscribed, against international law, by the central powers. While not in terms, it is in effect a declaration of war against this country. At its very least, it is an action that warrants the immediate suspension of diplomatic relations with the nation that has violated its solemn agreements and now threatens the lives and property of the citizens of the country and the sovereignty of the country, itself.

What our action will be, is in the hands of the president. Our danger lies not in prompt and firm action, but in the possibilities of delay on the part of the administration that will weaken the moral fiber of the country, that will instill a feeling of cowardice among the people, a belief that we are not able to rise to the sublime sacrifice that this action of Germany forces upon us. That is our real danger.

We are face to face with the fact that we are woefully unprepared to meet actual war, but better war with that unpreparedness than that we should be so benumbed in our consciousness of nationality that we would tamely submit to the imperious policy of Germany or any other power on earth. Better temporary losses in any amount than that we supinely submit to an invasion of our rights as free men and as a nation.

"Whom the gods would destroy, they first make mad." Germany in this last and wanton effort to antagonize the world, will array such powers against her that battling, she will find the whole world her foe, and, surrendering to the inevitable, will find herself without a friend in the whole councils of the nations. In her desperation she has gone stark, staring mad.

REMEMBERING A BENEFACTOR

On next Wednesday, February 7, the southern states will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Peabody educational benefactions, through which so much has been accomplished in the south.

It was on February 7, 1867, that George Peabody, for that time one of the greatest of American and English financiers, created a board of trustees to handle the funds set aside by him to aid in educational work in the south. His particular object was to provide means for the promotion of public school education in the southern states and to secure professional training for southern teachers.

Over four hundred thousand dollars were given from the fund to provide school and college buildings, of which the university of Florida received forty thousand. Besides appropriation for buildings and for endowment, the fund created by Mr. Peabody has supported many teachers and provided means for ambitious young people to secure an education.

He was one of the south's greatest benefactor, and his memory will be honored very generally, next Wednesday.

It is gratifying to learn that the appropriation of eight thousand dollars for the relief and education of the Seminoles was retained in the bill now before congress and soon to become a law. Florida realizes how very little has ever been done for these outcast people and is anxious to have the wrong done them repaired as much as possible and as soon as possible.

It is noticeable that the more reformers reform, the more there is to reform.

A WELCOME WRIT

Announcement, yesterday morning, that the supreme court had issued a mandamus requiring the Atlantic East Coast Canal Company to proceed, forthwith, to restore its canal to the width and depth required by law, was welcome news to Miami and to the east coast of the state.

The dilatoriness displayed in finishing the canal and placing it in condition to accomodate transportation has been one of the scandals of the state for many years.

Florida has acquired some rights in this canal by the fact that it was a great beneficiery of the generous land grant system adopted by the state many years ago. The canal has been cut through, in a manner, from Jacksonville to Miami, for many years, but has been practically useless because it has not been maintained to that degree that made uninterrupted transportation possible.

It is this condition that the authorities seek to remedy, and the writ of mandamus will require an immediate action on the part of the company. It is presumed that if the order is not obeyed with all reasonable speed, action will be commenced on the part of the attorney general, acting for the state, to declare the charter of the company forfeited and the canal and its unalienated lands the property of the state.

Very few people are aware of the great project of internal waterway from the extreme northern to the extreme southern portion of the state, running down the coast, close to the ocean. Very few realize the inestimable value the canal would be to the entire state if it were placed in condition where boats of reasonable size could navigate the canal without trouble and delay. An inland waterway from Jacksonville to Miami would be one of the most popular passenger routes in the country and would attract thousands to the state who would enjoy the wonderful scenery presented by each succeeding mile, and who do not care to venture the discomforts and dangers of a trip by ocean. It would be a feeder to all other transportation lines in the way of freight and would be one of the most valuable assets to the east coast of the state.

If the order of the supreme court brings immediate action on the part of the company, or in the event of its inability to comply, ownership and operation by the state, this section of the state will be immensely benefited. If the movement has taken at the suggestion of Governor Catts, he is to be commended for his prompt action.

THAT OFFENSIVE ARTICLE

Reference has been made in these columns to the provisions in the proposed constitution of Mexico to which the American administration objects, and which it is endeavoring to have changed.

The article in the Mexican constitution, to which objection has been made, has already been adopted by the convention at Quaretaro, and provides that foreigners may not make "denouncements" of land, acquire landed property or secure concessions to acquire the products of land, unless they renounce their character as foreigners, the protection of their own governments and remain completely subject, in this respect, to the laws and authority of the Mexican government.

As under the same new constitution the Mexican government retains possession and ownership of all natural resources, including water rights, riparian rights, oil rights, and mineral rights, it may readily been seen that the exploitation of the resources of Mexico by foreigners will be extremely difficult unless the owners practically renounce their allegiance to their home countries and become to all intents and purposes Mexican citizens, although they cannot, then, obtain full rights of citizenship.

On the face of it, the new Mexican constitution proposes to place all foreigners on exactly the same level as the natives, with the exception of citizenship rights. This, if enforced equally will make it difficult for American and other foreign corporations to retain their holdings in Mexico, and will, probably, materially hinder that country in its development, supposing of course that peace is finally restored there.

This country has sent Ambassador Fletcher to Mexico City for the express purpose of securing a modification of this particular section of the new constitution.

AMICABLY SETTLED

The Herald had very little reason to doubt that an amicable arrangement would be made by which the band, now furnishing music to the city, would be permitted to play for the dances that assist in defraying the expenses.

There was nothing in the arrangement that interfered with the wages or pay of local musicians, and the local union very wisely saw that, as the coming of the band was a public movement in which all participated, that it was not brought here for the purpose of making money for any local people or local concerns, there was no interference with local musicians with reference to the money they ought to receive for their services.

The Herald has always found the local unions very willing to discuss all matters and they usually come to the right conclusions, as in this case.

The Musician's Union has rendered a very patriotic service in waiving technical rules on the employment of the Highlanders, in this particular instance.

MISSED ONE GUESS

In an impassioned address before the legislature of Tennessee, last Tuesday, our fellow townsman W. J. Bryan, predicted the immediate success of woman suffrage in this country, nation wide prohibition and world covering peace.

Immediately on top of that prediction and almost before the legislative chamber ceased to quiver with the sound of his magnetic voice, the word comes that all possibility of peace has vanished into thin air and that even this peaceful country may be dragged into the conflict.

The friends of the other two movements may sincerely hope that his prophesies as to suffrage and prohibition will be more nearly fulfilled than the one he made as to peace.

Mr. Bryan never has established a solid reputation as a prophet, and it is to be feared that he still lacks something of being a practical forecaster of events.

Hotel registers show that there are representatives from thirty states in the city, to say nothing of one foreign country, showing the cosmopolitan character of the city's present population.

New Mexico will be the next state to go "dry", according to present plans. At that the state will not have far to go, if all tales of its aridity are true.

NATIONAL PRESS

Washington Post.

There is little in the situation elsewhere in Mexico to suggest the coming of peace and order. Villa, Diaz and Zapata are still formidable opponents of Carranza, and there are other smaller chieftains operating in the country. Carranza's organization is bankrupt and without credit, and it will never receive the support of foreign governments or be able to float a loan while the present methods are pursued. The military leaders who use Carranza as a convenient cloak are doing their best to impoverish Mexico in their respective bailiwicks, and Carranza is utterly unable to enforce his will upon them. Whenever it suits their purpose they will topple over the fragile shell that goes under the name of the de facto government. If any of these generals possesses sufficient capacity to reach an iron hand over the country and take it in firm grip, the sooner Carranza were overturned, the better, but none of the military men has exhibited more than the ability to install a system of graft within a state.

CATTLE RANGE FUTURE OF THE EVERGLADES

Opinion Expressed By Representative of the Government Forage Office

There is a great future to the cattle industry of Florida, according to C. V. Piper, of the forage office, bureau of plant industry, department of agriculture, who is making a brief stay at the Hotel Biscayne while investigating conditions here. He is accompanied by R. A. Oakley, also of the forage office.

Mr. Piper believes that the prairie lands north of Lake Okeechobee and some parts of the Everglades south and west of the lake are now in a condition to produce vast crops of forage plants upon which countless numbers of cattle may graze, and that with the reclamation of the entire tract of Everglades lands, the industry will flourish there.

"Of course," said Mr. Piper, "the whole project is too vast to venture an offhand opinion, as there are numerous difficulties to be encountered, but no doubt they will be overcome, just as Mr. Bright here has overcome some of them."

Mr. Piper expressed surprise that no one has followed in the footsteps of James Bright and his brothers, who have a large stock and dairy farm on the edge of the Everglades several miles northwest of Miami. He made a careful survey of the Bright farm yesterday and investigated heir forage crops, and apparently approved of Mr. Bright's methods and experiments.

An experimental farm devoted entirely to cattle raising and kindred problems should be operated in the Everglades to determine what can be produced to best advantage, and to solve some of the problems of cattle raising there, Mr. Piper thought.

The forage experts will leave Miami today for the north, but it is not unlikely that they will again come to Miami for further investigation into the possibilities of raising unfried forage crops on Everglades and other lands.

WILL BRING HORSES HERE

E. J. Swarz, to Erect Stables and Training Track For Fine Horses

Miami is destined to become one of the largest horse training camps in the country. E. J. Schwarz, of Newark, N. J., has purchased a fine tract of forty acres of land near Little River, where he will erect, during the coming summer, stables that will accommodate 150 horses.

Mr. Schwarz will also build a half mile track with grand stands and all accommodations for the entertainment of visitors during the winter months. It is planned to hold matinee races each week where some of the best animals in the country may be worked out for the spring and summer trotting seasons.

In addition to this, Mr. Schwarz proposes that the tracks, which will be beautified in every way, shall be used for holding fairs and may be used for this purpose at any time during the year.

Mr. Schwarz is president of Schwarz Brothers Co., one of the largest dealers in hides and skins in the country and is at the head of five other large corporations. He is the owner of one of the largest stables in the country and the fact that he has selected Miami as a winter quarters for his stock, will cause other horsemen to follow suit. For this reason Mr. Schwarz will have an abundance of room in his stables to care for any number of fine blooded stock and the new buildings will be built as early as possible in order to be ready by next fall.

In speaking of Miami as a suitable training quarters for fine horses Mr. Schwarz says there is no place equal to it in the country. The fine climate will benefit the animals which are liable to be attacked with pneumonia during the cold winter months in the north.

Mr. Schwarz purchased the forty acre track from the Winfield Investment Company, of this city, and proposes to begin the building of the stables and the half mile track at once in order to have everything ready to bring his horses down next November.

FROM ALASKA OR KANSAS?

LOUISE SACHEN

When Louise Sachen appeared at the McAlpin hotel in New York city she said: "I am just down from Alaska; I heard this was a pretty good boarding house."

Then she regaled clerks, managers and guests with stories of her life in the wilds about Koyukuk, her mines and her adventures. New York certainly "fell" for her. But along comes Mr. Sachen of Kansas City, who says he is the pa of the fair Louise. "She did spend two years in Alaska," said he. "But when she told the people that she had never seen a big city she was mistaken. She was born and raised in Kansas City, and isn't that big? She came home from Alaska last June, but she said nothing to us about her mines."

Brush this through faded, streaked locks and they become dark, glossy, youthful

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strang at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

TOURIST SUNDAY CLASS

The tourist's class of the Presbyterian Sunday school will meet in the park in front of the church Sunday morning at 9.30.

It was announced last Sunday that Mr. Bryan would teach the class, but it is not certain that Mr. Bryan will return in time for next Sunday. In case he does not arrive Mr. Witham will speak. Mr. Witham needs no recommendation to any one who has ever heard him. He is noted for his good humored speeches and keeps the audience interested from the start.

Several things have been arranged to make these meetings more interesting. One thing is the printing of cards to distribute to the class, which will have appropirate songs printed on them and scripture verses for responsive readings.

Every one is invited to come and enjoy a good time.

DOCTORS MEET TALK AND EAT

County Medical Association Guests of Dr. Hodsdon—Discussed Important Topics

The Dade County Medical society held an interesting meeting in the offices of Dr. B. F. Hodson on avenue C, last night when several interesting discussions were heard on a number of important subjects, by Drs. North, Sayles and Dr. DuPuis on purperal eclampsia and Caesarian section, which have been attracting the attention of the medical profession for some time. The fact that several Caesarian operations have been performed in this city lately, has made this subject extremely interesting.

After the discussion ice cream and cake were served. The meeting was attended by a number of visiting physicians. A cordial invitation has been extended to all visiting members of the profession to attend these meetings which are held at the office of Dr. Hodson on the first and third Thursday of each month.

a penalty for violation of its provisions.

Council receded from its former position relative to the purchase of a park for the negro settlement and rescinded the action taken on this question at the last regular meeting, because of protests from white residents living in the northern part of the city, but principally because the property was owned by the late Robert Welborn, and the deed was not made out before his death.

Property owners petitioned against the creation of a negro subdivision east of Avenue L and north of First street, and for a long time the race problem was threshed out again in the council chamber.

Council finally decided to authorize City Attorney Cason and Price & Eyles to draft an ordiance which would tend to put an end to the contrual bringing up of this question. The attorneys said they believed an ordinance could be passed making it unlawful for white persons to live within a specified distance of colored school houses, and colored people from living within a specified distance of white school houses.

Smoke Question Bobs Up

Residents near the Tripure Water company's plant on Avenue C, near Fourth street, protested against the company being permitted to continue to use a smoke stack that polluted the atmosphere with soot and soiled the linen on their clothes line, and endangered their property from fire.

It was pointed out that a smoke ordinance was passed some months ago, and became law without the mayor's signature, and that if the conditions complained of exist, the Tripure company is violating the ordinance.

C. W. Murray, city engineer, was clothed with powers of "smoke inspector," and authorized to investigate the situation.

On request of Attorney James T. Sanders, who appeared in behalf of Mrs. E. C. McAllister, council postponed passing an ordinance requiring all persons erecting buildings in Miami to build a roof over the sidewalk at a height of not less than eight feet, for the protection of passersby, and to prevent the blocking of the sidewalks as has been done in the past.

Mr. Sanders asked that council defer action until the next rgular meeting so as to give Mrs. McAllister time to make preparations for continuing the work on her hotel building at Twelfth street and the boulevard without delay.

GETTING READY FOR THE INAUGURATION

Washington, Feb. 1.—With inauguration day only a little more than a month away, plans are already well under way for the parade and ceremonies that will mark the beginning of Woodrow Wilson's second term as president of the United States.

In spite of the president's expressed wish that "Jeffersonian simplicity" shall prevail throughout, the indications are that there will be plenty of entertainment for those who come to Washington to attend the event. There will be plenty of soldiers, plenty of bands and enough gay decorations to satisfy almost anybody. Add to this the democratic enthusiasm at being given a new lease of power and there should be enough life to please the most critical.

The various committees in charge of arrangements make the prophecy that the ceremonies of the day will be as brilliant and picturesque as at any previous inaugural event. Prediction is made also that the crowd of visitors who will come from every nook and corner of the United States will be a record breaker. The prediction as to attendance is based largely on the advance reservations at the local hotels, all of which report that practically their entire accommodations have already been engaged for inauguration week.

The two big features of the day will be the induction of the president and the vice-president into office at the capitol and the parade that will follow these ceremonies. As usual, the day's program has been arranged on the assumption that the weather will be such as to permit people to be outdoors.

Within a few days following the inauguration, millions of Americans will be given an opportunity to see moving pictures of the president when taking the oath. Practically all of the film corporations making a specialty of showing current events have applied for space in the camera stand for their operators and machines.

St. Louis Art museum has been given paintings valued at $250,000 formerly owned by the late D. B. Catlin.

FINDS MIAMI MUCH IMPROVED

After Six Years Dr. A. J. Read, of Battle Creek, Again Visits City

Dr. A. J. Read, a prominent lecturer, of Battle Creek, Mich., is in the city in company with his wife who are the guests of Mr. and Mr.s Frank Houghtaling, of this city. Dr. Read is a prominent member of the staff of physicians at the Battle Creek Sanitarium and is paying Miami a visit after an absence of six years.

Dr. Read cancelled his engagements in the north in order to come here to recuperate from an attack of sickness, and since being in the city has improved wonderfully.

Mrs. Read is an accomplished artist whose paintings have been attracting wide attention throughou the northwest for several years past. The couple will remain in the city for a few weeks when Dr. Read will resume his lecture tour.

Speaking of Miami and the fine climate of this section yesterday, Dr. Read said that it excelled that of any other part of the country, if not southern France, and the war is doing more to make this fact known to the American people than anything else.

Instead of finding the small village that he left six years ago, Dr. Read finds a growing cosmopolitan city. As a winter resort, he said that Miami excells them all and will sooner or laer become the playground of the entire country. "You have every advantage over any other place, for you have a fine city where the visitors can find all kinds of amusements, while the distance from the center of population is such that it is within easy reach of all.

"California will continue to attract the people from the west, but Miami can look forward to seeing this city develop into a great winter resort for all eastern people as well as those from the middle west," said Dr. Read.

In his visits to other parts of the state, Dr. Read has observed a lacking in what might be termed civic charity between different cities of the state, but in his last visit he has noticed that this is gradually diminishing. In California, he says, the people of one section are always willing t· boost another part of the state, regardless of the fact that these little words of cheer might cause some traveler to go to another place. He failed to notice much of this in Florida, which is due to the anxiety of the people to build up their immediate neighborhoods.

In some cases he has observed some persons in one neighborhood of Florida complaining of the conditions in another, and this has been the means of keeping some of the people from seeing all of the state. This is not a practice in California where the people will speak well of every part of the state, and are always ready to boost any section.

Another good feature about the Pacific coast state is the desire of the people to have the visitor partake of their fruits. The different boards of trade and other civic bodies have all kinds of native fruits on hand and are only too anxious to have visitors sample them, knowing that if given an opportunity they will cultivate a taste for them.

MODERN METHODS OF CLEARING FARM LAND AT MOORE HAVEN

Twentieth century land clearing equipment is indeed efficient and it is interesting to watch a modern tractor clearing from three to five acres a day up at Moore Haven, taking the land in the rough, and handing it over to the farmer in conidtion for planting his crop, the wild growth, elder willow, or grass removed, and the land ploughed and harrowed, or pulverized, as desired. To see the transformation in a very few days of a large acreage from wild land to thoroughly cultivated fields, with crops planted, is indeed wonderful, and makes one realize that the pioneer of today, in the new country, is far better off than the pioneer of yesterday, when it was entirely a matter of hand work. Who would have thought of having a contract given for the clearing of one housand acres to be cleared in forty-five days, and planted in broom corn, as is being done at Moore Haven today, as well as all the other smaller acreages that are being cleared day by day?

Such efficiency is alone due to the fact that in this wonderful development the equipment is there, and today and every day there are six land clearing tractors at work from sunrise to sunset, making it possible for the incoming farmers to obtain the best and quickest results from their investment.

VICIOUS LEOPARD'S DEADLY GRASP ON JACKSONVILLE TOT

Jacksonville, Feb. 1.—Henrietta Bryant, the 21-month-old daughter of H. H. Bryan of Brunswick, Ga., was seriously injured when she was struck by a leopard in the zoo and ostrich farm on teh south side of the St. Johns river.

Mr. Bryan and his family were visiting the zoo and while they were viewing the animals the child walked close up to the cage of the leopard and in a flash the vicious animal struck the baby with its paw and made every effort to drag the child further within its reach.

Screams of the baby attracted attention to the cage where the child lay bleeding. She was picked up and given first aid treatment and was then rushed to St. Luke's hospital, accompanied by her father.

It was found that the claws of the beast had terribly lacerated the flesh on the temples and head of the baby. Physicians, however, do not anticipate any fatal results, although the wounds are serious. At the hospital little Henrietta is being given the best of attention.

If your child is pale and sickly, picks at the nose, starts in the sleep and grinds the teeth while sleeping, it is a sure sign of worms. A remedy for these parasites will be found in WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. It not only clears out the worms, but it restores health and cheerfulness. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by Eagle Drug Co.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION

Between Miami and Key West Was Established Yesterday For First Time

Key West can no longer be accused of being outside of the United States, for the Island City is now connected by telephone and the first message was flashed over the wires from this city yesterday.

It could not be learned last night who had the honor of being the first to talk, which fell to the lot of one of the young lady telephone operators, who held a short communication with one of her relatives.

The charge for a three-minute connection will be thirty cents per minute, or a lesser amount per minute for a longer period.

Key West was, until connected by the Florida East Coast railway a few years ago, quite to itself save for the cable line to the main line. After the coming of the oversea extension, however, the telegraph line was extended along the east coast railway and messages were no longer transferred all the way across the state.

With the coming of the telephone line one can now talk to that city from any part of the United States or Canada, and the time will soon come when a cable line will be established between Key West and Cuba. Then it will be possible for one to talk from any part of the United States or Canada to any part of that little country.

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the Quickest and Surest Stomach Relief

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for billiousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape.'s Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

MUSIC PROBLEM IS ALL SETTLED

The members of the musicians' union showed yesterday that they have the interests of the city at heart and are just as loyal and public spirited as any one person or group of persons in Miami, and are willing to put their shoulder to the wheel, whenever and wherever they can stretch a point to boost for the city.

As a result of this spirit of local pride, the difficulties which arose recently between directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the musicians relative to the employment of the Royal Scotch Highlanders' band for a dance at the Miami Beach casino every Friday night, were smoothed away and the union issued an official permission to the band to proceed with the dances.

The document, with the seal of the union attached, follows:

Permission was granted by Local 655, American Federation of Musicians, for the Chamber of Commerce to use the "Royal Scotch Highlander Band" for a dance, to be given on Friday night of each week at Collin's Casino, during the remainder of their engagement in this city. No other engagement will be allowed without the full consent of the local.

DOUGLAS HAIG CHAPTER AGAIN AT NETHERBY FOR PLEASANT AFTERNOON

Another delightful afternoon was spent at Netherby, the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Clifford, by the Sir Douglas Haig chapter, I. O. D. B. E.

WILL TRY TO LAND A BIG CONVENTION

Chamber of Commerce Directors To Make Fight For Tax Men's Meeting

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce decided last night to make a strong fight to secure for Miami the next annual convention of the National Tax Association for the first two weeks of December, 1917.

As the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association meets in Miami November 20th to an including the 23rd, it is believed it will be possible to induce the big hotels to open their doors six weeks earlier than usual and keep them open throughout the season, as the National Tax Association will have at least a thousand delegates and the Waterways Association fully that many if not more.

Attention of the directions was directed to the possibility of securing the convention, by John S. Edwards of Tallahassee, a member of the state tax commission and a member of the executive committee of the national organization.

Mr. Edwards wrote in part:

"I feel assured that the 1917 convention can be brought to Florida. The time and place for holding the convention will be decided by the fifteen members of the executive. I am writing therefore to inquire if Miami desires to undertake and entertain this convention.

"The convention will likely go to the city that offers the greatest inducements in the line of entertainment. There will be some small expense to the city that entertains this convention, but it will be much less than the benefit accrued."

MIAMIANS WILL FIGHT FOR P. O.

Letters To Be Sent To U. S. Senators Asking For Addition To Building

Every man in Miami, whether he be resident or visitor, will be asked by the Chamber of Commerce to address a letter to some member of the senate of the United States urging that an appropriation be made by an amendment to the public buildings bill, to provide an addition to the Miami postoffice.

There is not a person in Miami, whether tourist or Miamian, having business with the postoffice but sees the urgency of the situation, and knows that the cramped conditions at the office are a great hindrance to the accommodation of the public and the proper carrying on of the work.

The directors believe everyone will readily respond to their appeal, and ask their senators to use their influence in behalf of the Miami postoffice.

PROFESSIONAL SQUASH MATCH

New York, Feb. 1.—A squash tennis match between W. A. Kinsella, holder of the world's professional championship, and John Macklin, the Yale club professional, is to be played at the Yale club in this city tomorrow. The conditions call for four out of seven games. Kinsella is obliged to concede his opponent five aces, so that no title will be at stake.

On the porch of the Hotel Urmey last night Miss Bess Burdine gathered a number of guests around a charming decorated table at a dinner in honor of her guests, Miss Elsie Alexander and Miss Marion Dunson.

Pink roses heaped in the center of the table gave the keyonte of color for the decorations while jolly little Japanese favors marked each place.

Miss Burdine's guests were the Misses Elsie Alexander, Marion Dunson, Jane Tatum, Farnces Lewis, Jewel Green, Hazel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Koons, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pancoast, Mrs. W. M. Burdine, and the Messrs. Edward Haynes, Clement Chinn, Beal Siler, Facio Dunham, Robert Reimert, George Mathews, M. L. Hampton, W. N. Burdine, Louis Koons, Ewen Watkins and Walter Morrow.

UNCLE SAM TO SOLVE SERVANT PROBLEM

ANTHONY CAMINETTI

Uncle Sam, through A. Caminetti, commissioner of immigration at Washington, is going to try his hand at a solution of the servant problem. He wants every ohusekeeper in the land to answer questions something like these: Are you able to keep a servant? If so, how long have you had your present cook? If you have not one, how long have you been without one? What do you, or what would you, do to keep one? What wages do you pay? How many days off do you offer?

COLD WAVE PREDICTION

Florida To Experience Decided Fall In Temperatures and Ice To 27th Parallel

While the weather bureau predicts a cold wave for tonight there was little indication of a big fall in temperature at an early hour this morning although the barometer indicated a change at 7 o'clock last night, when there was a slight decline.

The temperature went from 69 degrees at 7 o'clock yesterday morning and to 74 at 7:00 p. m. The highest temperature for Miami yesterday was 76 degrees, while the lowest on January 1 one year ago was 76 degrees and the lowest was 72.

The report from the local weather bureau for today was for fair and decidedly colder weather and a cold wave, except at Key West and in the extreme northwest postion of the state; probably freezing temperature to the twenty-seventh parallel Friday night; Saturday fair and continued cold; strong northwest winds diminishing Friday night.

ENGLAND'S NEWEST MILITARY HERO

London, Feb. 1.—England's newest military hero is Lieutenant General Sir Hubert Gough, who has just won promotion by his brilliant services in helping to hold the Germans in check along the Somme front.

Springing from a line of great soldiers, Sir Hubert has never failed to maintain the magnificent tradition of his fighting ancestors, who for many generations, have distinguished themselves on the battlefield. His father, Sir Charles Gough, gained his Victoria Cross during the Indian mutiny for saving the life of his own brother, also a V. C. man, and Sir Hubert's younger brother, Colonel John Gough, won his in Somaliland some years back. No other family can claim that three of its members have been recipients of this coveted order.

Born forty-five years ago, General Gough was gazetted from Sandhurst to the Sixteenth Lancers in 1889. From that time he has climbed up the ladder of success with remarkable rapidity.

When he began his fine service in the South African war, he had only attained a captain's rank. At first attached to a mounted brigade, in which capacity he gave General Buller valuable assistance as intelligence officer, he was soon placed in command of a composite mounted force, and proved his rare gifts as a dashing leader on many occasions.

He was in the thick of the fighting outside Ladysmith, where he was severely wounded.

For his services in South Africa, he was awarded the Queen's medal with two clasps, and the King's medal with five clasps, representing in all seven general engagements. He was also given a step up in rank, which had the effect of making him, at thirty-seven, the youngest colonel in the British army.

General Gough is a typical cavalryman in temper and manner, quite openly candid and critical of other people, but always ready to justify his candor by proving that he can do the thing himself, as indeed he has brilliantly shown over and over again.

For the rest, Sir Hubert is very good looking—an inheritance, probably, from his mother, who, before her marriage, was Miss de la Poer, a noted Irish beauty.

SALTS IF BACKACHY AND KIDNEYS HURT

Drink lots of water and stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder troubles you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

RESCUE MISSION TENT MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Henderson, the rescue mission evangelists, who have a tent at Eleventh street and Avenue F, report an especially good meeting last night, with several tourists at the altar for prayers. The sermons are delivered by Mrs. Henderson. During the daytime they call on the sick and visit the slums, and at 7:30 every night hold meetings in the tent, as well as at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoons.

TANK BARGE UNLOADS GAS

Alleghany Brings 7,500 Barrels of Gasoline For Local Market

The Gulf Refining company received 7,500 barrels of gasoline yesterday, and the big shipment of fuel is being unloaded from the tank barge Allegheny, which was towed all the way from Port Arthur, Texas, to a point opposite the Government cut, yesterday.

The barge was towed from Port Arthur by the steamer Gulf Light, which vessel was torpedoed by a German submarine last year, and was laid up for repairs for a little more than two months. The Gulf Light proceeded on to Philadelphia with a cargo consisting of 30,000 barrels of oil for the big refining company.

After unloading the cargo at the Ocean Beach terminal of the Gulf Refining company, the barge Allegheny will be towed out into the ocean and anchored and will be picked up by the steamer Gulf Stream which will pass here on Saturday, bound from Philadelphia to Port Arthur.

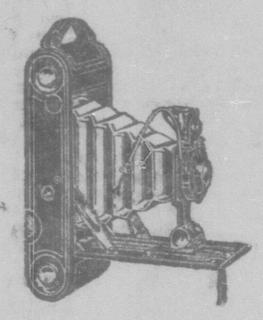

When the Gulf Light arrived opposite Miami yesterday a wireless message was sent to C. D. Kefler, in this city, and the steamer Vulcan went out and brought the barge into port through the government cut.

Eastern United States railroads burn old freight cars to salvage the iron in them.

The evangelists live in a portion of the tent, where they are "at home" to those wishing to see them, from 4 to 6 every afternoon.

When the bowels become irregular you are uncomfortable and the longer this condition exists the worse you feel. You can get rid of this miserable quickly by using HERBINE. Take a dose on going to bed and see how fine you feel next day. Price, 50c. Sold by Eagle Drug Co.

THRIFT DAY PSYCHOLOGY IS DISCUSSED

Lyman Parsons Wood, of the Collins Publicity Service of Philadelphia, has recently prepared a most interesting and instructive article on "Thrift Day—Its Psychology and Significance." In part, Mr. Wood says:

"'With all thy getting, get understanding.' The phrase of Solomon, wisest and wealthiest of kings, has peculiar pertinence for Americans these piping times of prosperity. We are sailing on the highest tide that has ever lapped our coasts: we bask in a sunshine that seems eternally golden. Unquestioning, we accept the gifts of the gods and eat, drink, and be merry, mindful but little of the morrow. The attitude is general and, indeed, only natural. Prosperity invariably begets extravagance.

"Few clear-thinking Americans there are who do not realize the need for preparedness. In affairs military and naval, its importance is universally recognized; in matters of trade and finance, even in the personal and domestic concerns of the individual, its indispensability day by day becomes manifest.

"Most significant of this trend of opinion is the nation-wide thrift movement slowly spreading among us. There are evidences that a leaven of 'understanding' is steadily raising the mass of Americans. Thrift, efficiency, preparedness, the terms are virtually synonymous, are gradually taking root.

"Many plans for the promotion of thrift have been urged and adopted in America. Of these quite prominent is the Thrift Day movement, initiated on February 3, 1916, by a well-known publicity expert of Philadelphia, and in every state in the Union the day was last year celebrated.

"The banking world is as one mind on the Thrift Day. That first step toward saving is always the first step towards acquiring the habit. Thrift day once observed so experience proves in a large majority of cases, becomes not an annual occasion, on which to put money in the bank, but a vitalizing influence in the daily life of the individual and community. Not only February 3, but every day becomes Thrift Day.

"For the banker it creates a new sphere of influence. Other than and above the advantage of increased deposits—the actual material evidences of thrift—is the establishment of closer confidence, the securing of a more intimate relationship between banker and public. Banking institutions of all kinds will therefore benefit. Savings banks may gain more tangibly at first, but commercial banks and trust companies must eventually reap their reward. Successful banking is firmly rooted in national solidarity. Thrift which is efficiency in the individual makes for this unity and solidarity in the nation. Thrift Day, therefore, has a national significance. Its observance is bound up indissolubly with the well-being of America in the present and in the future.

"The Thrift Day movement which celebrates its first anniversary on February 3, 1917, is a step in the desired direction. There are concrete evidences in the banks of America that not all the people are deluded all the time by our present prosprity.

"If we have vision—and it is written that where there is no vision the people perish—let us see and appreciate the inherent strength and dependability in the national thrift movement. On Thrift Day, February 3, 1917, let us, as patriots, determine to co-operate and establish yet more firmly this means of national preparedness."

ROTARIANS PLANNED BANQUET FOR NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

What proved to be the livliest session of the Miami Rotary Club was held yesterday afternoon, at the San Carlos. The members came together in fine fettle and the fun was fast and furious during the entire session, in which some business was also transacted.

A feature of the occasion was the presentation to the Swedish poet, Laureate, C. J. Ericson, of a beautiful bouquet, tastefully made up of celery, carrots and radishes, for a song he did not sing.

It was decided to have a banquet next Thursday night, at the Royal Palm, for the charter members and their wives, to which all Rotarians and their wives who are visiting in the city will be invited. In addition each member of the club has the liberty of inviting one couple.

It is proposed to make this one of the events of the season, and the entertainment committee promises something rich in the way of "stunts."

During the present week it is expected the membership committee will be busy filing applications for membership, and that at the meeting to be held two weeks hence, there will be a number of new members elected.

Mme. Beldner is a designer of some note, having spent the past seventeen years in the business. She will design costumes and have entire charge of this department. The Business Section, where prices are prohibitive, is creeping close—Increasing values in Riverside Heights Lots
The Business Element cannot encroach on Riverside Heights, building restrictions prevent that—But it is raising prices on lots

Think of it—a fully developed residence section just a few hundred yards beyond the end of the business district! Within walking distance, but even at that served by a metropolitan street car service! And best of all, the rapid growth of business westward on Twelfth Street is forcing the West Twelfth Street residences back into Riverside Heights, just beyond, the logical place for the new homes.

Houses Are Going Up by the Score—Each One Means Increased Valuation of Riverside Heights Lots

Present Prices of Lots Are $400 to $1500 and Now is the Time to Invest

In No Other Section Will You Find Conditions and Circumstances so Favorable for the Most Profitable Investment

Riverside Heights will bear investigation and surmount the most rigid comparison of values. We have not said all we could say for it, but a sight of the wonderful building activity going on in every block and on all sides will convince the most skeptical of the great increase in realty values which will come in Riverside Heights as steadily as the days pass and the developments progress there.

OFFERS BILL TO LEGALIZE BIRTH CONTROL TEACHING

ABRAHAM I. SHIPLACOFF

Abraham I. Shiplacoff, who represents in the New York state assembly the district in Brooklyn known as Brownsville, where there are some 80,000 Jews, and where every family contains from three to ten children, has introduced a bill to permit the dissemination of birth control information. It was in this district that Mrs. Margaret Sanger and her sister, Mrs. Ethel Byrne, set up their "birth control clinic," for which the latter is now serving a term in a New York penitentiary and defying the authorities with a hunger strike.

NEW JOB IN BIG HOTELS

The "Hostess" an Important Factor in Modern Hostelries.

The first of a series of conferences under the auspices of the bureau of occupations for trained women was held at the New Century club and the subject was "Business." It would appear that very few doors are now closed to women. Mrs. A. K. Evans, manager of a cafe, perhaps the best known in the financial district of New York city, sent a report, which was read by her assistant, Miss Hall.

As Mrs. Evans has occupied several important posts with a large hotel which owns the cafe, she was able to tell much that is interesting about the demand for women in the hotel business. Of course, there are the chambermaids and bookkeepers, but the hostesses in modern hotels are a distinct innovation. They are designed to create such a "homy" atmosphere that guests will want to linger. More and more people are leaving their homes to move to hotels, according to Mrs. Evans, and women with training in household economics, interior decorating and domestic science may find a congenial and undeveloped field in the hotel business as now conducted.

There was an enticing vista of possible millions to be picked up in Wall street, in the talk on opportunities for women in finance by Miss Elizabeth Ellsworth Cook, who sells bonds for a financial house in Wall street. Because women more and more are assuming the management of their own incomes financial houses are going after them to invest in stocks and bonds and are employing women to sell bonds and stocks. Miss Cook declared that there was such a scarcity of young college men willing to begin at the bottom of the ladder in banks and financial institutions at $9 a week that college girls are received most cordially as substitutes, and are making good.—Constance Drexel in Philadelphia Public Ledger.

CONTRAST

MOORE HAVEN

With Your Northern Farms

Up in the Northern States, there are lands to be had at $150.00 and $200.00 per acre, where the farmer can raise one good crop per year of wheat, corn, or other crops, provided weather conditions are favorable, and then he must wait through the long winter months for another opportunity, but

At Moore Haven

YOU can buy land at $60.00 to $75.00 per acre.
YOU can have an ALL YEAR ROUND GROWING PROPOSITION.
YOU have an opportunity of three or four crops per year.
YOU can grow ALL THE GRASSES REQUIRED FOR LIVE STOCK.
YOU can raise ALFALFA every month in the year.
Raise POTATOES, CABBAGE, LETTUCE, CELERY when HIGHEST PRICES PREVAIL.

AT MOORE HAVEN you have an all year round Live Stock opportunity.

NO SILOS—NO BARNS—THESE OVERHEAD EXPENSES ELIMINATED—AND THE RAILWAY WILL ARRIVE IN AUGUST

The above is just a plain statement of conditions as they are in Moore Haven, as compared with the North. It will appeal to the agricultural man, and based on common reason it is appealing to the shrewd investor who knows what will happen to the prices of such lands on the arrival of the RAILWAY.

HOME RULE PROPHESIED FOR INDIA

There Are Many Different Opinions Regarding the Question, However

Lahore, India, Feb. 1.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Political matters have taken on an added prominence in India of late, due largely, according to the general expression of opinion, to the fact that the war has shown the people of this country their importance to the rest of the empire, thereby arousing their aspirations for progress. Naturally the subject of ultimate home-rule occupies a large place in the thoughts of the Indian politician, a few of the so-called ultra-radicals even advocating the immediate granting of some form of self-government.

The questions of what the British government ought to do and intends to do towards bestowing further political powers on the Indian, and of how much immediate advance the Indian himself is capable of making, are being generally and eagerly discussed. A correspondent of the Associated Press has discussed these questions with scores of prominent Europeans and Indians during the past few months. Some extremely radical views were encountered, but the majority of those who expressed an opinion met on certain common grounds which are well summarized in an interview with the Rev. Dr. J. C. R. Ewing, the well known American educator, who for the past seven years has occupied the important post of vice-chancellor, or president, of the University of the Punjab. Dr. Ewing is the only American who has ever been accorded so high an honor in India as was bestowed upon him when he was made head of this university to direct the activities of twenty-seven affiliated colleges in the province, with their student population of some 12,000. As a mark of appreciation for his services to this country he was decorated by the king in 1914, being made companion of the Indian empire. He has made a deep study of political questions in India and not infrequently has been consulted by government officials on delicate matters of policy.

Dr. Ewing expressed the belief that home-rule for India was inevitable, but declared that the country was not prepared for it at the moment and would not be ready for this important step for many years to come.

"When the British government at the time of Lord Macaulay introduced western education into India it opened the door for self-government," said the doctor. "Such a step, involving the teaching of democratic ideals, could have no other result. It was the crossing of the Rubicon, and there is no turning back. To do the British government justice, I believe that they made this move with the full knowledge of what the outcome must be, and that they have always had in mind the ultimate granting of home-rule to the people of Hindustan.

"There are, of course, various shades of opinion among both Europeans and Indians as to the speed towards which the home-rule goal should be approached. The great bulk of the people of India are illiterate, something like 94 per cent, according to the latest statistics, but among the other six per cent there are many highly educated and brilliant men who could be called upon to play their part in government. Home-rule can never become an accomplished fact until a trained body of Indians has been raised up. And in order to achieve this, one of the most important steps will be the opening up of the civil service to a still greater extent to the educated Indian. Not only must this be done but Indian and British government employes must be placed on the same footing and must learn to work in close co-operation.

"Foreigners in considering home rule for India often make the mistake of looking upon India as a nation. As a matter of fact, Hindustan represents many races and many languages, and in the process of unification there are as many difficulties to be overcome as there would be, for instance, in an attempt to bring all the various countries of North and South America under one governmnet.

"Moreover, the average Indian of the so-called illiterate class knows nothing of politics and takes no interest in problems of government. He is mainly concerned with his own little personal matters, and so long as conditions of government favor him in the pursuit of his affairs, it makes small difference to him what that government is or what shape it takes.

"The ideas of democracy are entirely foreign to the bulk of India. For endless centuries, until the assumption of British rule, the people were governed as a conquered race, and so thoroughly has the idea of subjection been instilled that it will be exceedingly hard for them to break away from the belief that they can have no voice in governing themselves. But all this is bound to change gradually with the spread of general education.

"One great stumbling block in the way of democracy is the fact that the Indian never has learned to bow to the will of the majority. This may be seen wherever bodies of Indians come together for the discussion of matters of mutual interest. Opinion is divided along partisan lines, family, racial and religious ties playing an important part in the division. The fact that the majority decides that certain things are for the best means nothing to the minority, and a split of the body into two or more factions is almost inevitable. This characteristic is something that must be overcome before any success can be achieved in the matter of popular government.

"There are numerous other features which present obstacles to the home-rule advocates. We have two great religious bodies—the Hindus and Mohammedans—whose interests at present are largely at variance with each other. Some Indian politicians will tell you the claim that Hindus and Mohammedans cannot work in harmony is a pure fallacy; but to one who has spent many years in India and has made a deep study of these questions, it seems an almost self-evident fact that the chasm to be bridged between these two bodies is wide and deep. Ultimately, through a process of education, Hindus and Mohammedans will be drawn together into close enough political bonds so that they can work in unison for the common good. We have seen similar conditions in the past history of many countries, and while the question of religion at the moment is a most important one, yet I do not feel that it is a permanent barrier in the way of political progress for India.

Despite all the drawbacks to home-rule, I have great faith in the capacity to govern itself ultimately and to do it well. The Indians are a wonderful people, and while they lack certain characteristics which we of the west consider important, in some other features they have shown themselves to be our superiors. The people of this vast empire are rousing in a remarkable manner from the lethargy into which they had sunk.

"I cannot, of course, set myself up as a spokesman of the government of India, but I have talked with many officials on the question of home-rule, and I may say that in general I have gathered the impression that the British government intends to do all that may seem possible to facilitate the entrance of Indians who are qualified to higher positions in the government service."

AFTER FORTY YEARS IN SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

JESSE POMEROY

After forty years of solitary confinement, Jesse Pomeroy, the famous prisoner at Charlestown, Mass., has been permitted to associate with the other prisoners. This picture, taken the day the ban was raised, shows him at the age of fifty-five. He was committed for life as a boy after the murder of two children and it was believed necessary to keep him in solitary confinement to hold him in prison at all.

WHAT HE DID ON $1.000 A YEAR

Remarkable Record of a Letter Carrier in an Indiana City.

A letter carrier in Indianapolis worked 30 years on an income of $1,000 a year or less, and only recently could it have risen as high as $1,200 a year.

Yet this man today says that Providence has been kind to him; and well he may say so, for this is what he has done:

He has reared and educated a family of four boys and two girls.

Three of the boys and one of the girls have been through college—in part, no doubt, by their own efforts, though the parents deserve credit for so rearing them that they were willing and able to help on the college expenses.

The three boys who went to college are all civil engineers with good positions, and the girl who went to college is a teacher of physical training. Two of the boys helped to build the Panama canal. One of them was in the engineering division six years, and is now an examiner in civil engineering for the United States civil service commission at Washington. The other was with the Panama railroad eight years, and is now in Alaska with the United States Alaska engineering commission. The third boy is assistant superintendent of maintenance and right of way with an important railroad.

The youngest boy didn't go to college, but did get all the common schools could give him, and has a splendid position as managing salesman with a great corporation. The girl who didn't go to college took a high school course and remains at home with her father and mother.

Every child born to this family got a fair start in life and is doing well. The home from which they emerged into the world is the kind of home of which the foundations of the republic are built.

And it was all done on $1,000 a year!—Duluth Herald.

WORLD OVER CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Instead of our usual news column we offer to kind readers the following extract from an article just written by Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor movement, for "The Christian Herald." Just some "pointers" can here be quoted:

"On February 2, 1881, the first Society of Christian Endeavor was organized in the parlor of the pastor of Williston church, Portland, Maine. On February 2, 1917, there are 80,000 societies of Christian Endeavor, with four million members, throughout the world, and probably a million and a half young people gathered into societies with the same general principles, which have received their inspiration in some measure at least from the Christian Endeavor movement.

The society is now found in at least sixty-eight denominations in America, and probably many more of the smaller denominations from whom the statistics cannot be readily obtained. In the Pennsylvania State Union alone forty-six denominations are represented. Throughout the world at least a hundred denominations and more than eighty different nations and large dominions, like Canada and Australia.

The constitution, pledge and other literature have been translated into at least fifty languages and dialects, and some thirty journals, larger or smaller, in many countries, and in many languages are devoted to its interests. The principles, formulated in the first society, seem to Dr. Clark to be primarily four: loyalty, pledge devotion, fellowship and service.

"For Christ and the Church" has been the motto of the Christian Endeavor from the very beginning. The active members' pledge, commencing with "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength" has been loyally accepted by at least fifteen millions of past and present Christian Endeavors. It is the covenant that has made the weekly prayer meeting the beating heart of the society from the beginning. It has been found to be just as effective in China, India, Madagascar and South America as in the more wide-awake evangelical church in America.

"The outlook for the movement was never so bright as today. The campaign for millions, which will close next July, has already brought nearly, if not quite, five thousand new societies into its ranks within the past few months. It has added thousands to the list of its life-work recruits, who have promised to shape their lives in such a way as to answer God's call to the ministry, the foreign field, or the Y. M. C. A. work, should be thus open the way to one of these lines of service. We believe that when the report is given at the New York convention it will show fully ten thousand new societies as a result of this campaign, and a million new members, and a million also brought to Christ and into his church. For all past and future blessings we Endeavorers give thanks to God alone, whose we are, and whom we hope to serve in larger and larger measures in the year to come."

GRACE A TOWNSEND.

"THAT FOR YOU, IRVING!"

Highbrows Tell Ragtime Composer What "Wicky, Wicky" Means

When W. C. Brownell or Robert Underwood Johnson or some other pundit of highbrow literature bewails before the American Academy or in a letter to the New York Evening Post the decadence of American taste—well, why don't they stop and consider Irving Berlin?

Mr. Berlin is the gentleman who says he never had a music lesson, but makes millions out of his ragtime; also, he writes "lyrics." Here's one:

I'm down in Honolulu looking them over.
I'm down in Honolulu living in clover.
Try and guess the way they dress.
No matter what you think it is, it's even less.
Their language is hard to understand because it's so tricky.
I'm got them teaching me to say wicky wicky.
I don't know what it means, but it's the best that ever was.
And if it means just what I think it does,
I'll be in Honolulu looking them over for a long, long time.

Irving seems awfully curious to know what "wicky wicky" means! Well, here you are, old chap. You're going to be disappointed—it means something very different from what you thought. Wikiwiki ("wicky wicky" is only your Broadway patter for it, we suppose) means, out in the Territory, nothing worse than "burry up." If we should ever be so lucky as to encounter some music lover equipping pianolas and cabarets with Irving Berlin silencers, we should shout (molto vivace) "Wikiwiki!"—Collier's Weekly.

ROAD LEGISLATION IS NEEDED FOR FLORIDA

State Must Meet the Apportionment of Federal Aid For Roads In Order To Secure Such Funds. Other Recommendations Made By State Road Department To the Governor

Recommendations for legislation broadening the authority of the state road department, so as to conform to the requirements of the federal aid road act, and also to provide funds to meet the amount apportioned to Florida by the provisions of that act, are included in the recommendations submitted to the governor of Florida by Hon. Ed. Scott, chairman of the state road department, accompanying the first annual report of the department for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1916, which is now in the hands of the state printer.

The following is a copy of the letter delivered to Governor Sidney J. Catts, containing the department's recommendations for proposed legislation:

In order that the state road department may fulfill the purpose for which it was created and develop the highway system of the state with the greatest efficiency and economy, the following recommendations for proposed legislation are respectfully submitted for your consideration, in compliance with the requirements of section 8, chapter 6883, Laws of Florida, said chapter being the act creating this department.

It is provided in said section 8 that "The department shall report to the governor not later than sixty days before the meeting of the legislature, such changes in the law as they find expedient to secure the best results in road construction and repair work."

Therefore, this department recommends:

First

(a) That section 4 of the act creating the department be revised and amended so as to give this department power and authority to construct and maintain with convicts or free labor or to enter into contracts for the construction and maintenance of such roads and bridges as may come under its supervision.

(b) That section 5 of the act creating this department be revised and amended by striking out the provision requiring the county commissioners of the several counties of the state to "make and file with the department quarterly reports of and a detailed statement of all moneys expended on such work."

(c) That section 6 of the act creating this department be amended so as to provide that the state road department shall, at its discretion, designate certain roads as state highways and construct and maintain same with funds derived entirely from the state or jointly from the state and federal government, as such funds may be available; and that this department may also designate certain other roads as state aid roads and shall be given authority to construct and maintain same with funds raised jointly from federal state and county sources.

(d) That section 9 of the act creating this department be amended so as to accept the terms of the federal aid act, heretofore tentatively accepted by the governor of Florida, and appropriating the sum of $112,000 to meet the federal aid for the year 1917, and the sum of $168,000 to meet the federal aid for the year 1918, these amounts being the apportionment to the state of Florida for the years mentioned.

(e) That section 10 of the act creating this department be amended so as to provide that county officials making remittances to the state treasurer of moneys for the use and maintenance of this department shall make a report, showing in detail the source of the revenue so remitted, and that one copy of such report be transmitted to the state road department and another copy of the same be kept on file in the office of the county official making the remittance and submitting the report.

Second

That there be enacted a law creating a state convict road force, consisting of all able bodied state convicts, not required for the operation of the state prison farm, and all jail prisoners not actually worked on the roads in the counties where convicted, and that the said convict road force be used in the improvement of state highways and state aid roads under the supervision and control of the state road department. Also, that there be appropriated the sum of $85,000 for the year 1917, and the sum of $135,000 for the year 1918, for the maintenance of the said state convict road force.

Third

That there be enacted a law providing for an annual state license fee on all motor driven vehicles, said law to repeal the existing laws permitting counties and municipalities to levy such license fees. This law should provide that the state fund thus created, after setting aside the percentage devoted to the maintenance of the state road department, shall be apportioned to the several counties in proportion to the revenue paid by the counties into the state treasury, and to be used toward the maintenance of state highways and state aid roads, with the proviso that where no such roads exist at the time of such apportionment, the fund so appropriated may be used for he construction of roads until a maintenance charge has been created.

Fourth

That there be adopted a joint resolution submitting to the qualified electors of the state a proposition to amend the constitution of the state of Florida, providing that the state legislature, during any session thereof, be authorized to provide for the issuance of state highway improvement bonds for such amounts as may be required to carry forward the construction of a system of state roads during the ensuing two years.

Fifth

That there be enacted a law prohibiting the use of public roads for traffic of an unusual or destructive character and forbidding any load or portion of a load on vehicles using such public roads from dragging on the surface of the road.

Sixth

That the existing laws with reference to county bond issues and district bond issues be so amended as to provide that before any election for such county or district bonds is held, surveys, plans, approximate estimates and specifications for the construction of such roads and bridges as are provided for shall be prepared by a competent negineer and same approved by the state road commissioner, and that no bonds shall be voted on for a less amount than called for in such approximate estimates.

Your attention is respectfully called to the many conflicting and obsolete laws shown in the compilation of the road and bridge laws of Florida, as compiled by the attorney general, a copy of which accompanies this report, and it is hereby recommended that a systematic revision of these laws be made. Respectfully submitted,

ED. SCOTT,
Chairman State Road Department.

ADVERTISING HELPS TO KEEP PRICES DOWN

(The Fourth Estate.)

Two prominent business men were talking things over not long ago. One of them asked the other: "What is the most common delusion in the business world today?"

Instantly came the reply: "The idea that advertising adds to the price of goods."

Every now and then some manufacturer has the hardihood to say that he can sell his goods cheaper because he doesn't advertise. Every one who knows the A B C of business knows that this claim is impossible on its face. Yet it sounds plausible and such talk deceives millions of people.

Forget all these sophistries and listen now to the plain common sense of the matter.

In the production and marketing of goods there are two inevitable costs. One is the manufacturing cost; the other is the selling cost. And no way has ever yet been found by which either of these costs can be eliminated. Mark that.

Whether you buy farm products at a grocery store, or mill products at a dry goods store, or laboratory products at a drug store—whatever you buy at any store, be sure of one thing: The price includes the selling cost. It must, else the manufacturer, the wholesaler, the retailer and the salesman could not live.

And just as surely as there are always two items of cost, the manufacturing and the selling, just so surely are there only two ways in which the price of goods can ever be reduced.

One is by economies in manufacturing cost. The other is by economies in selling cost.

Of course, it isn't easy to cut manufacturing cost without cutting the quality.

But in modern times a way has been found to cut selling cost—and its name is Advertising.

Advertising is like a straight line: the shortest distance between two points—the producer and the consumer.

It cuts out the grades, curves and the angles. It makes a drop of ink do the work of a salesman. Bear in mind that goods can never be sold unless there is a demand and advertising creates this demand in the simplest, most direct and least expensive way. No other sales method can equal it in magnitude of return for a minimum of cost.

And the big returns from advertising also cut down the manufacturing cost—that's another saying. Increased volume of production always means a decrease in the unit cost of production through better and more efficient manufacturing methods.

The Association of National Advertisers has recently been gathering some remarkable facts and figures on this subject. They show how one after another of the big advertisers of the country have been able to reduce the price of their product or else to improve the quality at no increase in price.

It is a significant fact that nationally advertised goods are the only product which, as a class, have not tended to rise in price during the past few years.

Countless causes are working today to force prices up. We all know this by sad experience. Against all these forces one force only is working to keep prices down—and its name is Advertising.

SAYS THE DRUG IS AN ETHER COMPOUND

Just a few drops loosens any corn so it lifts out without pain.

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, can be lifted out with the fingers without pain.

This new drug called freezone is an ether compound discovered by a Cincinnati man, who says that while freezone is sticky it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but cut this out and make him try it.

"TIZ" EASES TIRED, SORE, SWOLLEN FEET

Instant relief for aching, puffed-up, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, sore and swollen you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swellings and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

A fiber mat has been invented that is intended to be clamped to an automobile running board to enable riders to cleanse their shoes before entering a car.

PAID A QUARTER FOR A SUBSTITUTE TO DO HIS CUSSING

An elderly man of dignified appearance stood on the corner of Twelfth street and Avenue B, directly in front of the old Hippodrome building, yesterday afternoon, or rather he varied his standing with pacing restlessly up and down. Occasionally he looked at his watch and frowned and looked at his watch again, and then resumed his pacing.

Every now and then he stopped and stood awhile, first on one foot and then on the other, and sometimes on both feet. Frequently he glanced down the street as though expecting someone. He was more than impatient. He was exasperated.

As was shown by the sequel to the story he had every reason to be exasperated, for wifey said she would come along in two or three minutes, just as soon as she went inside the store with the pretty hat in the window, and looked at it and one or two other things. It had been a little more than an hour and a half since she said that, and still she came not.

"I'd like to swear," the gentleman muttered beneath his breath. "O," he added, "If I could only swear!" He looked like a deacon, which probably accounts for his inability or unwillingness to swear.

His words were overheard by the tall man with the basso profundo, who extols the greatness of Charlie Thompson's marine show, and he promptly came to the rescue.

"For two bits I'll swear for you," said the tall man with the deep bass voice.

"Here you are," returned the stranger, producing twenty-five cents. "Cut loose and put a heavy emphasis on what you say."

"What do you want me to say?" asked the man with the voice and the willingness to swear.

"Say 'dammittohell'" returned the exasperated individual.

The man with the basso profundo drew a long breath and repeated the other's use of his vocal organs.

"Why, you swore when you told me what to say," replied the obliging young man.

At that moment wifey came along and the two disappeared around the corner.

It follows: Every wife should have one evening for the theatre; one evening for dancing; two evenings for bridge, or some other card game; mar-ried couples should not retire tii 2 a. m. All this was taken from her diary in court, for now Mrs. Colle is being sued for divorce by her husband .

FLORIDA'S CAMPHOR INDUSTRY

New York Herald

The women of Florida who distilled camphor by boiling the leaves and twigs of camphor trees in kettles covered by burlap bags during the civil war, when the south could not import the gum, probably did not realize that they were fostering what was to become a big American industry.

Some years ago, when it looked as if the United States might become involved in trade difficulties with Japan, the bureau of agriculture took steps to prepare for the home production of camphor, which up to that time had been imported almost entirely from Formosa, and as a result yearly crops of camphor have been produced in the United States since the first months of the European war.

At the time the government took up the question of camphor producing there were many trees in Florida, but they were cultivated either for ornament or shade trees or as wind breaks for groves of tropical fruit. The existing trees had demonstrated, however, that the soil, climate and rainfall of Florida were ideal for the raising of the Cinnomonum Camphora, or camphor laurel. Bulletins from the department of agriculture were spread broadcast over the state urging plantation owners to set out groves of the camphor laurel. The bureau of plant industry estimated that sufficient camphor for the whole United States could be raised in Florida without requiring the use of any of the land already given over to subtropical fruits, truck or sugar cane.

The result was that many small land owners set out camphor laurels even on tracts less than an acre, and several companies started huge plantations. The largest of these is the Satsuma plantation, of two thousand acres in Putnam county. At the last shearing this plantation yielded seven hundred tons of clippings, the leaves and twigs being cut off by great mechanical shears operated by a gasoline engine, which also drives the wagon into which the slippings fall.

Right here lies the superiority of tht American method of production over the Japanese. The latter destroy the grove in order to procure the crop, for they distil the gum from the wood itself. The American process is to distil the leaves and twigs, thus avoiding injury to the tree.

The first shearing is made when the laurel attains a height of eight or nine feet, and thereafter is annual and is done in the Florida midwinter, at which season it has been demonstrated that the camphor content of the foliage is at the maximum. The cropping is close, but it improves rather than retards the growth of the tree. The amount of crude gum obtained by this method is about one and a quarter per cent of the weight of the shearings. Experiments have shown that an acre of land will produce about 175 to 200 pounds of gum a year.

Besides the Satsuma plantation there is a 1,600 acre tract in an adjacent county, from which the first yield was obtained last winter, on the seventh anniversary of its planting. Several thousand pounds of gum and a large quantity of oil were procured.

Last winter another company purchased eighteen square miles in the middle Florida belt, and half of the tract already is covered with sturdy seedlings.

THE UNLUCKY SOLDIER

"For a long time," the fat plumber said, "I have been trying to locate the most unlucky gink in the whole world."

"And now——"

"I have found him at last."

The thin carpenter showed curiosity.

"He is a soldier down on the border," the fat plumber continued.

"Do you mean that you think all of the boys down there are to be pitied?"

"I should say not!"

"Then you have to furnish a diagram with your joke."

"This particular soldier is wealthy, and has everything he wants back home."

"And still he is unlucky?"

"Yes, he wrote to his wife one day and told her she ought to do something for the boys at the front."

"Yes——"

"And the wife immediately bought 500 fresh fish and had them shipped to the border."

"That was fine of her."

"Now comes the unlucky part."

"I have been waiting for that."

"On the very day that the consignment reached the company the woman's husband happened to be assigned to duty in the mess tent——"

"Yes——"

"And blamed if he didn't have to clean every one of those 500 fish."—Pittsburgh Post.

DONT USE EMERGENCY BRAKE

Something That Feminine Automobile Drivers Should Always Remember.

The good driver of a motor car never applies brakes swiftly except in an emergency. When drawing up at a street side she cuts off ignition early and allows momentum to carry the car to the stopping place, using the service brake gradually. The good driver thus saves gasoline and wear upon brakes, coasting to a stop with the smoothness of operation of an easy start.

A good driver never uses the emergency brake, because she never has emergencies! She sees and avoids the emergency before it arrives; the poor driver rushes into trouble and depends upon quickness in grabbing the emergency lever to save life. More than one accident has followed a futile attempt to find the seldom-used emergency lever in a hurry.

The good driver rounds sharp corners to the right and goes over extremely rough stretches of road or hits unxpected "thank you, ma'ams" with clutch disengaged to save the rear axle mechanism.

The good driver uses the wheel with the least possible motion. She does not drag it suddenly from side to side, but turns it so gradually that passengers are unconscious of the fact. In rounding a corner she commences to straighten the car up before it is half way around.—Woman's Home Companion.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of folks bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body which if not eliminated every day, become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels, the quick result is poisons and toxins which are then absorbed into the blood causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get feeling right are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so limestone phosphate and hot water act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is vastly more important to bathe on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If Feverish, Bilious, Constipated, Give Fruit Laxative at Once

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you will have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

AMUSEMENTS

THE HIPPODROME THEATRE, MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Audrey Munson will present her film play, "Purity," at the Hippodrome theatre, next Monday and Tuesday.

When "Purity" was finished, a number of the most noted sculptors in New York were invited to a private showing. Included in the number were Augustus Lukeman, William L. Dodge, Piccirill Brothers, Sherry Fry, Adolph Weinman, Daniel Chester French, Henry Hering, Scarpitta and Albert Jaegers. The projection lasted two hours, during which the artists and sculptors were agog with pleasure and excitement. They kept breaking forth with exclamations of approval as the various scenes were flashed on the screen.

At the close, Augustus Lukeman, who is the first sculptor for whom Miss Munson posed, said: "This picture has given me a new view of the motion picture as an art medium. I came here to be disappointed, as usual, at what the camera had done, and I have been most agreeably surprised." He then referred to the first visit of Miss Munson, with her mother, to his studio. "She had, of course, a wonderful figure, which assured her possibility as a model. But she had as well a natural grace and ability for posing that is so well evidenced in the present picture."

The frank cleanness of the picture was also the subject of much comment. "There is nothing in Miss Munson's poses in the nude that should wound the sensibilities of even the most puritanic person," observed Albert Jaeger, at whose studio the fair model has often posed.

JACK PICKFORD IN CHAS. DICKENS' "GREAT EXPECTATIONS," AT PARAMOUNT

Louise Huff and Jack Pickford, who created such a tremendous success in the Famous Players' adaptation of Booth Tarkington's celebrated novel, "Seventeen," have been starred by the same company in an adaptation of Charles Dickens' wonderful work, "Great Expectations," which is the Paramount picture at the Paramount theatre today.

The story of "Great Expectations" details the thrilling adventures of "Pip," a young orphan, who is brought up in the home of his brother-in-law, a blacksmith. He encounters an escaped criminal, Provis, while trying to elude his sister's wrath, and is forced to obtain food and a file to assist the criminal in furthering his escape. Provis is captured and the boy is in terror until the convict shields him with a lie.

Because he is a refined looking little chap he is chosen by Mr. Jaggers, a lawyer, to become the companion of little Estella, the adopted daughter of a Miss Havisham. There is much mystery and not a little that is terrifying about Miss Havisham who sits alone in a dark room clad in an old wedding dress.

Pip's adventure at the hands of Miss Havisham, his love affair with the delightful Estella, the mysterious legacy which makes him independent, and the final shocking discovery of the source of his wealth are all factors in this absorbing story, set in the romantic atmosphere of which Dickens drew such sweeping pen pictures.

DIXIE HIGHWAY TRACT

To those residing permanently in Miami and to tourists here for the season

J. A. Gates & Son, have a message.

We have formulated a plan whereby we can greatly reduce the price of real estate to purchasers, cause the business of real estate to be more highly respected, and to be more enjoyable and satisfactory to those engaged in the traffic.

We purpose to sell lots in a tract by employing hired salesmen just as a merchant sells goods in his store by clerks in his employ. Parties visiting our Dixie Highway Tract, now being offered, will be shown over the tract by our salesmen. A tag bearing the lot and block number and price of lot is attached to a stake placed in front of each lot, to be detached by purchaser and presented at office of tract owner, where papers in settlement will be drawn.

We can, we believe, by this method save purchaser 25 per cent or more and complete the transaction most expediciously and satisfactorily.

We especially call attention to location of our Dixie Highway Tract. It adjoins the Charles Deering place on the north and extends from Dixie Highway to Bay View Ave., overlooking the Bay. All inside lots are held at a uniform price of $195 each, corners $300. If in this connection you note the fact that lots in Flander's tract which adjoins the Charles Deering place on the south are held at prices ranging from about $3,000 to $5,000, and are on lower land; you will readily see that lots in Dixie Highway will certainly appreciate rapidly in value with the growth of Miami and that you will make no mistake in buying now. Is it unreasonable to expect an advance of one hundred per cent in values within one year. May we not urge those of our home people thinking to secure a lot while cheap in price and most attractively located to select now. May we not urge tourists seeking a place for building a winter home to visit us; and may we not especially urge builders who want to get a bunch of lots on which to build houses to sell or rent to select now while the selecting is good—the bunches are unbroken. Dixie Highway Tract has many advantages, such as electric lights, telephones, jitney busses about half hourly, ice, meat, groceries delivered daily, daily mail delivery, high school, churches, literary clubs, fraternities, and other advantages of a happy and cultured community.
